INSANE TEMPER BLAMED
ed from Spouse for About Four Months

Columbus, O.—(AP)—Shirley T. Wing, former Rhodes scholar and one time attaché of the American embassy in Paris shot and wounded his wife, Mrs. Margorie Meeker Wing and her father, Claude Meeker, Columbus broker, and then killed himself in the Wing home in Worthington near here Tuesday night.

Mrs. Wing, locked in a room with her husband pleaded an hour for her life, the shooting apparently having been precipitated by the arrival of her father demanding admittance.

Mrs. Wing, known as a writer of prose and poetry, and her father are in a Columbus hospital each with bullet wounds in the thigh. Wing, who had been separated from his wife for four months died almost instantly, with a bullet in his heart. Mrs. Wing's mother declared that the tragedy was due to Wing's mental condition. She asserted he had been nervous and distraught.

THREATENS LIFE

Mrs. Wing told her mother and officials that her husband came to the home at 5 o'clock to see their 17-month old daughter. She said he immediately entered her room, locked the door and the key in his pocket and declared he was going to kill her.

At 5 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Meeker arrived to take their daughter to dinner. While Mrs. Meeker waited in their automobile Mr. Meeker went into the house. He said his daughter called to him that she was locked in her room with her husband.

SHOTS BOTH

Mr. Meeker demanded admittance when Wing reached out through a window and fired two shots at him one lodging in a fleshy part of his right thigh. Neither Mr. Meeker nor his daughter are injured seriously. Wing was the son of a local bank president.

Insane temper prompted Wing to shoot his wife and Mr. Meeker and then turn the gun on himself, County Prosecutor John R. King and Coroner V. A. Murphy held in their formal verdict following an investigation of the tragedy.

Olcott was stricken last Friday night but his illness did not become generally known until Tuesday night when John McCormack announced it from the concert platform in Hill auditorium. Explaining why he had suddenly stopped in the midst of song "Mother Macchree," McCormack said, "I have just learned that my dear friend Chauncey Olcott is lying seriously ill at a local hospital. Destroyers Dispatched from Alexandria to Protect Americans in Syria

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Two American destroyers, the Coghlan and the Lamson, were sent from Alexandria, Egypt, to Beirut Wednesday as a precautionary measure.

American consul Paul Khabenshuh cabled the state department that he had sent a message to the destroyers to proceed to Beirut although there was no immediate danger to Americans in Damascus or Beirut.

The destroyers were dispatched to Alexandria several days ago after the consul had reported the possibility of danger to American lives and property in Syria. They had been held there in readiness to proceed to the Syrian port when necessary.

LOSSES SMALL

Paris.—(AP)—The French losses in the recent Damascus troubles, according to official figures reaching Paris Wednesday were ten killed including three native soldiers and 50 wounded. The insurgents lost 200 killed.

In addition, the dispatches say, the insurgents killed 50 Armenians and three Tripolitans. The damage to property was estimated at $50,000,000 paper francs (about $2,175,000).

The report emphasizes the fact no Europeans were wounded or hurt in any way. The losses are much smaller than had been previously reported.

MANY AT FUNERAL OF ANDERSON'S VICTIM

Muskegon, Mich.—(AP)—Muskegon forgot George (Dutch) Anderson Wednesday while it buried Detective Charles Hammond. In the Central Methodist church, not 200 feet from the spot where Hammond cornered the notorious Anderson Saturday night and shot him dead, funeral services were held Wednesday. More than 10,000 persons are estimated to have passed by the Hammond bier since the body lay in state.

Anderson, whom the walls of the Atlanta federal penitentiary could not hold his unguarded now at another end of the city. The police department has wired the warden of the penitentiary that it is ready to turn over to him the body of the man for whose capture the warden had offered a $500 reward. Pending word from Atlanta the authorities are uncertain what disposition will be made of the body of this gunman and pal of Gerald Chapman, "the super-criminal."

Secret service operatives who are here believe the body may be claimed by some attorney or woman. "No member of Anderson's gang ever went to the Potter's field," George Tate, secret service man said.

U. S. Touched For Billion By Other Lands This Year

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C.—Fully $1,000,000,000 in foreign loans having been publicly offered to the people of the United States since Jan. 1 of this year and having been placed before the American government for the customary inquiry as to whether any political objection would be lodged against them the interesting fact has developed that officials here are sensitive lest the public get the impression the government is actually acting as a sort of loan agency.

President Coolidge has discussed the matter with his cabinet on several occasions and while the letters written to bankers in response to their applications for consideration of loans are cautiously phrased nevertheless it is felt that even more explicit information as to the government attitude should be disclosed.

No foreign loans have actually been approved. The government assumes no responsibility whatsoever and offers no advice to the American investor. All loans are taken up by American bankers and investors with the same risks that attend domestic loans or financial projects. There is no guarantee of any sort from the government that either principal or interest will be paid.

In other words, government officials draw a distinction between what they call "economic" and "political" objections to foreign loans. In the use of the word "political" they have in mind the broad sense of public policy as for instance in the stopping of loans to countries which have not yet settled their war debts to America.

A loan for French cities might be a sound economic proposition but the objection of the American government would make it difficult for a banking house to make a notation as American investors might be led to infer that the objections were partly political but basically economic.

As for the loans that have been made thus far this year, in fact ever since the Harding-Hughes administration asked the international bankers in New York and elsewhere to submit their proposition to the state department, the procedure has been a very thorough one. When a letter is received from a banker it is made the subject of scrutiny not only by the department of state but by the treasury department and the department of commerce.

Kellogg, Mellon and Hoover, and in the last analysis President Coolidge, actually say whether loans shall be permitted to pass as "without objection."

While there is no legal power over American bankers to compel them to obey the wish of the government, it is on the other hand true that if anything goes wrong with a foreign loan in the future, the Americans naturally go to the department of state for redress through diplomatic channels.

The department is not obliged to support an American claim unless it feels that the claim is just. Hence any foreign loan which was originally made over the protest of the department of state would have little chance of diplomatic support.

Twin Sister, Protests He Is Innocent

Kenosha.—(AP)—Leo Chaffee of Racine who is held in the county jail here on the charge of attempted criminal assault upon a young woman last May, and who was held previous to that as a suspect in the case of the murder here of Madalynne Latimer and James Sears, was visited in his cell here Wednesday morning by Madalynne's mother, Mrs. Anne Latimer of Appleton and Madalynne's twin sister Evelyn of Milwaukee.

Chaffee wept throughout the interview, but insisted that he was guiltless of the crime. When questioned with Evelyn he said that he had never seen her or any one who looked like her before.

The interview with Chaffee was sanctioned by the sheriff and the police who are not yet through questioning Chaffee are not satisfied with the story he has told.

"30" WRITTEN ON LIVES OF 2 VET A. P. OPERATORS

Charles Dean Dies in Milwaukee, Edward Duffey Stricken Tuesday in LaCrosse

Milwaukee.—(AP)—"Thirty" was written in the life of Charles Dean, 62, veteran newspaper man, telegrapher and former correspondent of the Associated Press, as he was preparing to leave his residence for work at the Milwaukee Sentinel, early Wednesday.

Death was due to an attack of heart trouble. For more than 30 years "Charley" Dean was a familiar figure in Milwaukee newspaperdom, in the local press club and in the haunts that newspaper men frequent. Nearly all of that time he was in the service of the Associated Press, first in the role of an operator receiving a news report written in longhand on a "stevens" form, later using one of the first typewriters after their invention.

After years of service at the key Mr. Dean was appointed to the position of correspondent for the Associated Press at Milwaukee and remained in that capacity until his retirement several years ago. Since his retirement he was employed as an executive of a local telegraph company and as assistant market editor of Milwaukee Sentinel.

COUNTY TO GET $83,000 FOR STATE ROADS

County Highways in State to Receive $4,500,000 of $12,000,000 State Fund

Madison.—(AP)—Nearly twelve million dollars will be available for highway construction and maintenance purposes in Wisconsin in 1926, preliminary estimates of the state highway commission indicate. The figures show that approximately $11,987,800 will be available to counties.

Counties will receive $4,567,191 from the state and federal governments for construction of a five state trunk highway system in 1926, the commission announced.

Other highway funds will be divided as follows: For improvement of county trunk system, $1,377,000; maintenance of state trunk highway system $3,864,000; maintenance of connecting streets in cities, $127,000; maintenance of swing and lift bridges $81,000; maintenance of town and village roads, $1,494,000; and maintenance of city streets $406,000.

These figures are estimates and have been certified to the county boards at this time in order that they may know in advance of their November meetings approximately how much money will be available for road work during the next year and be able to decide the work to be done in this money," the commission stated. "The exact amount of money for distribution will not be known until shortly after the end of the present fiscal year, about Aug. 1, 1926, when a final allotment will be made."

The estimated totals available for the different counties for state trunk highway construction include: Brown $82,547; Chippewa $74,485; Dodge $74,485; Douglas $82,500; Eau Claire $62,982; Kenosha $52,395; LaCrosse $88,867; Manitowish $87,795; Marathon $125,987; Marinette $69,186; Milwaukee $220,979; Oneida $38,112; Outagamie $83,501; Racine $17,417; Rock $107,835; Winnebago $76,311; Wood $66,665.

NEGRO ADMITS ATTACK AND MURDER OF GIRL

Chicago, Ill.—(AP)—James C. Allen, 16 negro has confessed that he killed Miss Emma Bacon, nurse, whose body was found in Holton Oct. 3, the day after she had been attacked, robbed and slain. He also admitted connection with an attack and robbery Sunday night of another white woman.

Allen first blamed Louis Palmer, 27, negro, in both cases but changed his story after questioning, saying he had sought revenge on Palmer for having attempted to have him discharged when they worked together in a railroad construction camp. Palmer was questioned but will be released.

Dempsey and Kearns Are Ready To Bury Hatchet

Los Angeles, Calif.—(AP)—Pugilistic prophets of gloom who for months persistently declined to believe Floyd Fitzsimmons really could put over a Jack Dempsey-Harry Wills title bout in 1926, even after articles were signed opened their ranks Wednesday to receive a brother pessimist in the person of Bob Roy Benton, press agent and counsellor of the heavyweight champion.

Benton Tuesday night announced he was quitting the Dempsey camp rather than be a party to what he assured the world has an impending invalidation of the Fitzsimmons contract, an invalidation designed to give Jack Kearns a chance to manage at least two more Dempsey fights before his contract with the title holder expires next September.

Just how the Fitzsimmons contract, which binds Dempsey not to risk his title before meeting Wills, is to be invalidated Benton admitted he was not at present ready to divulge. He said he had definite information, however, that Ray Coleman, Milwaukee attorney, was representing both Dempsey and Kearns in the matter.

Cannon denied he had any connection with the affair saying he had not seen nor communicated with Kearns for two years.

NEW JERSEY WET GOVERNOR WOULD MODIFY DRY ACT

Newark, N. J.—(AP)—Successful in his candidacy for governor of New Jersey as an avowed "wet," A. Harry Moore, Democrat and commissioner of Jersey City, is going to try to have Congress modify the Volstead act.

Moore defeated state Senator Arthur Whitney who declared for enforcement of the Volstead act and the state enforcement act. When the returns were in Moore said:

"I propose immediately after my inauguration to initiate a movement to urge congress to modify the Volstead act as to permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beers."

The campaign extended over six months. The wet and dry issue entered early when the anti-saloon league endorsed Senator Whitney.

COMPROMISE ON WITNESSES IN MITCHELL CASE

Wilbur, Davis, Jardine Not Called, but Their Documents Will Be Asked for

Washington.—(AP)—Wholesale subpoenas for defense witnesses were issued Wednesday in the Mitchell court-martial proceedings but those who ranked highest on the list as submitted by counsel for the accused avowed were not summoned.

Under a compromise worked out by opposing counsel, no step was taken to bring into court Secretary Davis of the war department, Secretary Wilbur of the navy department, Secretary Jardine of the agricultural department, or Everett Sanders, secretary to President Coolidge.

It was agreed that some of those now in far distant cities should be permitted to give their testimony by deposition.

Along with the subpoenas the court's judge advocate sent out requests for the many government documents cited by Col. Mitchell as essential to the preparation of his defense. These include official files of the war, navy and agricultural departments, as well as the White House, and it is doubtful whether all of them will be delivered to the court.

Col. Mitchell and his counsel agreed to waive the request for subpoenas for the three cabinet officers on condition that the documents in their possession be presented by accredited representatives of the departmental heads. The same concession was made in the case of Mr. Sanders.

VICTORY FOR SMITH

New York.—(AP)—Governor Al Smith has another mighty triumph at the polls. His protégé, state Senator James J. Walker, who defeated Mayor Hylan for the Democratic nomination in a bitter primary battle was elected Mayor of New York Tuesday by an enormous plurality over Frank D. Waterman, Republican and fountain pen manufacturer. Four proposed amendments to the state constitution for which the governor stumped the state and which were opposed by the Republican machine were approved by the voters.

This new proof of the political power of the governor is something of a vindictory if he carries out his announced intentions. He has said he will return to private life when his term as governor expires a year from next January.

For four years beginning Jan. 1, next the chief executive of the county.

KLAN BEATEN IN DETROIT

Boston Elects First G. O. P.
Man in Years — Gov. Al
Smith Shows Strength

By the Associate Press

The Democrats were swept to victory Tuesday in the New Jersey gubernatorial race and the New York city election.

In less spectacular contests the Republicans elected a mayor of Boston for the first time since 1907, won hands down in Pennsylvania state and municipal election regained control of the municipal machinery in a number of Indiana cities, and apparently had elected a mayor of Louisville, Ky.

In the only two congressional contests each party held its own, the Republicans retaining control of the Third New Jersey district and the Democrats remaining successful in the Third Kentucky district.

Virginia the only state besides New Jersey to elect a governor voted a straight Democratic state into office, John M. Purcell winning out for state treasurer over John B. Bassett, Republican in a contest that attracted much more than usual attention because Purcell's affiliation with the "Athletic church" was brought into the campaign.

THE KLAN IS ISSUE

The Ku Klux Klan became the chief issue in the non-partisan mayor city election in Detroit with Mayor John W. Smith apparently returned a victor over Charles Bowles, the Klan-supported candidate.

Prohibition was the out-and-out issue in the New Jersey gubernatorial race, but in the victory of A. Harry Moore, Democrat, over state Senator Arthur Whitney, who had the support of the Anti-Saloon league, the Democrats approached to the overturning of the $70,000 plurality given President Coolidge, last year.

The Democratic victory in New York City was overwhelming. State Senator James J. Walker defeated Frank D. Waterman by approximately 400,000 votes out of a total of slightly less than 1,000,000 cast.

With ten candidates—seven Democrats and three Republicans running in Boston's nominally non-partisan election Malcolm Nichols, Republican, was elected Mayor of that city. The main Democratic vote was divided between Theodore A. Glynn, who had the backing of Mayor Curley and Joseph H. O'Neill, sponsored by former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald.

LOUIS WILLING TO GIVE CLOTHES BACK TO GHOST

Louis Relter of town of Grand Chute is not superstitious; neither does he believe in ghosts, as a venture some ghost learned last Saturday night.

Louis lives alone near the large swamp north of this city. About midnight last Saturday he was suddenly awakened by the loud barking of his watch dog. The house dog which he keeps inside the house soon joined the watch dog in disturbing the quiet of the night.

Curious to know the cause of this disturbance, he got up and on peering out of his bedroom window discovered a ghost stalking along on top of some corn shocks he had placed near his barn. The ghost was so close that his glistering eyes could even be seen at intervals, Louis related.

Not caring for company at this hour of night, Louis took down his .22 rifle from the rack, opened the door and discharged his gun in the air. This was enough for the ghost,

RANKIN-ST HILL AGAIN CLOSED TO TRAFFIC

S. Rankin-st. hill which was temporarily opened to traffic while S. Meade-st and S. Lawe-st were being paved, has again been closed as a public thoroughfare. The intersection of S. Rankin-st and E. John-st is a dangerous corner as high stone walls and terraces on either side of Rankin-st. completely shut out the view of cars coming up and down E. John-st. Because of this danger the Rankin-st hill was closed to traffic six years ago but when S. Meade-st and S. Lawe-st were paved it was found necessary to open the hill so that motorists would have a means of getting to John-st bridge.

as it disappeared at a rapid rate over the corn field and into a nearby woods.

That the escapee with the ghost was not a dream is indicated by the finding of the ghost's clothing in the corn shocks the next morning. Louis promises to return the clothes if the ghost will call for them.

IMPORTANT DATES TO BE OBSERVED IN NOVEMBER

The month of November has played an important role in the history of this country. During this month some of the most important events which had a part in shaping the destiny of the United States transpired. Histories make mention of November as often if not more often than any other month in the year.

Usually the first thing which is called to mind upon the mention of November is Thanksgiving, which falls on Nov. 26 this year. Although an important date, it does not have the significance which several other dates in the month have.

Peace was declared after the first war between this country and Great Britain on Nov. 30, 1783. It marked the final separation of the colonies from the mother country, and the beginning of a new history on this side of the Atlantic ocean.

Of almost equal importance is Nov. 11, upon which day Germany signed the armistice and the World War, the most terrible war in the history of civilization, came to a close.

WORLD LEAGUE IS GATEWAY TO WORLD PEACE

Member of League of Nations
Council Talks to Lawrence
College Students

Christian L. Lange, member of the Parliament of Norway, with Lord Cecil, one of the four outstanding men among the delegates to the League of Nations, spoke to Lawrence college students in chapel assembly. His subject was International Cooperation through the League.

Dr. Lange has an international reputation as a statesman. He is a member of the Hague Conference, the League of Nations, and a joint winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, being awarded it in 1921 with the Prime Minister of Sweden. He is dean of the International Parliamentary Union, which met in August in this country, and he returned over from this meeting to speak at the leading colleges and universities in the country. Dean Wilson S. Naylor of the college in introducing Mr. Lange, referred to him as "Christian L. Lange of Norway and of the world."

Reviewing the time when countries were widely separated by distances, and when it took three or four weeks to cross the ocean, the speaker showed that today the ocean may be crossed in 72 hours, and that countries are interdependent. "It is a curious fact that all nations in speaking of their office which deals with international affairs term it the office of foreign affairs! This is a misnomer, it should be termed an office for international affairs," Dr. Lange declared.

"The world has created common interests, and attempts have been made to handle these interests in a common way. During the war and after, the idea in the minds of most people was the prevention of the recurrence of such occurrences. But you can never really achieve or prevent war without some permanent office to handle it."

Narrowing his subject down to the present League of Nations after showing the need for it, Dr. Lange showed how the League is a practical means of handling such problems. "While the Hague meets only every eight years, the League, composed of fifty members, meets every year. Representatives from every country meet on equal footing and open debate is practiced for the settling of questions of international importance. The council composed of four permanent and six elected members meets four times a year."

Dr. Lange also discussed the various problems which may be taken up by the league, labor problems by the International Labor Office, inefficiency in methods dealing with passports between nations and countries, and economic problems.

"The highest ideal of course is to secure international peace," he said. "But peace is not an ideal, but a state of mind. You are at peace with yourself when you have attained your highest goal." Dr. Lange concluded with the plea not to think only of selves, but to think internationally.

NEW CHLORINATORS ARE NEEDED AT WATER PLANT

The water commission will advertise for bids for one and two chlorinators to be used at the filtration plant, it was decided at a meeting of the commission at the city hall at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. The assistant secretary was instructed to advertise for the bids.

Bills amounting to $759.65, and payroll totaling $1,260.63 were allowed, and the financial report from the department accountant the bacteriologist and the chief engineer for the month of September were presented and accepted. Only routine business was transacted.

The old chlorinators now in use at the plant were purchased about seven years ago and have been giving excellent service, but are nearly worn out. As the average life of a chlorinator is only about two years, the service given by those at the local plant is exceptional.

The company which sold the chlorinators to the city has taken pictures of them on several occasions during the past few years for advertising purposes.

COUNTY GETS $40,000 TO IMPROVE ROUTE 54

Outagamie-co will receive $40,000 in federal aid money for improvement of Highway 54 between Seymour and Black Creek next year. This is the only road construction project definitely known up to the present time. Plans for the 1926 highway program were discussed at a meeting of the county highway committee Monday morning at the courthouse, but no definite decisions were made as to next years construction, with the exception of the federal aid job on Highway 54.

RED CROSS GETS READY FOR ITS 1925 ROLL CALL

Plans for Annual Membership
Campaign Will Be Worked Out This Week

The ninth annual roll call of the American Red Cross, midwestern branch, will be conducted from Nov. 11 to 26, inclusive, according to Homer Benton, chairman of the Outagamie-co chapter Red Cross. The quota for the county organization is $1,000.

Final plans for the roll call are now being formulated, and will be completed at a meeting of the officers of the chapter at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the office of Mr. Benton. The exact procedure for the roll call here will be decided at that time. Several plans are now under consideration.

As in former years, membership to the Red Cross will cost $1, and the official Red Cross button will be given all those who join the organization, whether they are new or old members. The chapter will conduct the roll call in every part of the county.

No personal campaign for members will be conducted either in Appleton or in the county, according to Mr. Benton. Because of the many drives for money which residents of the city and county are forced to meet during the course of a year, it is the intention of the Outagamie-co chapter Red Cross to conduct the roll call along different lines.

PROHIBITION DEBATE
The controversy over prohibition will not abate. Its supporters declare it to be a success and those who are opposed to it assert it is a flat failure. Those who pronounce it a success are the radical prohibitionists. They want to maintain it regardless. Those who denounce it as a failure are the extremists on the other side. Most of them are not interested in the fair question as to the results of the eighteenth amendment. They want to overthrow the law or nullify it on general principles—first, because they do not believe in government interference with this form of personal liberty, and second because they have no conscientious scruples on the subject of intoxicating liquors.
We do not think we can depend upon the assertions of one side any more than those of the other. We are inclined to agree with the opinion of the research committee of the Federal Council of Churches, which after an investigation of conditions, declined to express ultimate conclusions, contending "it is too early to form final judgments." There is so much to be said on both sides of the question that this seems to be a sensible view.
If we look at prohibition from the purely economic standpoint, it unquestionably has been of benefit to the United States. Savings have increased since it went into effect at a more rapid rate than ever before. There is little drunkenness and less carousing by workmen. They are being paid better wages, they are producing more, they are putting more comforts into their homes and providing a better life for their wives and families than at any time when the saloon was "the poor man's club." It is not necessary to quote statistics on this proposition, although they are available. Every employer of labor will testify to this fact, regardless of his personal opinion about prohibition. Economically, therefore, the country and its people are vastly better off. This applies to every section of the country, to every kind of employment. It has increased the efficiency of the nation, its thrift, its enterprise, its wealth; and it has improved its health.
On the moral side, it is a matter of debate whether with illicit liquor, which can be obtained in any quantity, anywhere, any time, the roadhouse and cabaret, which depend entirely upon the excitement and stimulation of booze for their popularity, are not a greater menace to our young manhood and womanhood than any of the temptations that existed under legalized liquor. Certainly the conditions are not satisfactory, and it is moonshine and bootleg whiskey that make these unsatisfactory conditions. This problem of prohibition has not been met and remains an open challenge to it.
On the side of law and order, prohibition is a distinct failure. We have never had so much lawlessness in America as since this constitutional amendment went into effect. The failure or inability of the government to enforce prohibition is primarily responsible for the general contempt for law. The crime in this country makes Europe with all its vicissitudes, small wars and occasional rioting, a model of sobriety and order in comparison. It is a condition which we must remedy if we are not to have social and political ruin. The question is whether it can be remedied so long as there is wholesale and open violation of the eighteenth amendment.

As we have pointed out frequently, if it is to stand prohibition must be enforced.
Finally, there is the question of personal liberty, the difference between one class of citizens which interprets its rights in one way and another which seeks to extinguish those rights and which holds that they must give way before public good or majority demand. There is plenty of room here for honest difference of opinion, for the social and political issues involved are of an exceedingly complex character.
A great experiment like national prohibition in a country of 110,000,000 people, covering a geographical area such as that of the United States, composed of sections with different traditions and varying racial and social backgrounds, cannot be determined in a few years. We note that while it is being condemned by our extremists as an absolute failure, Mr. Lloyd George is calling the American experiment to the attention of the British people as worthy of their serious contemplation. In another ten years we will be better able to judge, and that is a short time. Twenty-five years or fifty years will be better still. If repeal were possible, which it is not, we should be in no haste to take the step. The only discouraging thing is that we must apparently go on with farcical enforcement. If we are to have non-enforcement of prohibition indefinitely then we would not hesitate to say that repeal or modification were in order.

MURDER IN DAMASCUS
As daily the news grows clearer regarding the nearly unbelievable massacre in Damascus, it becomes increasingly apparent that France has made the blunder of its entire colonial career—a blunder that may never perhaps, be excused or remedied.
In the past, white commanders in danger among the yellow and brown races have had general white sympathy as advancing against odds the cause of civilization and enlightenment. General Sarraill, the French high commissioner under the Syrian mandate, is today facing the white world's contempt along with the Mohammedan world's hatred. He has weakened his cause at home and against his enemies. The United States consul at Damascus is placing claims for thousands of dollars in damages incurred when French armored cars and tanks plunged blindly through not only the Mohammedan but the Christian and Jewish sections of the city, killing persons of all races and religious indiscriminately, and manned by stupid operators who didn't know their way. Other European representatives are presenting even more serious protests and claims.
The death of between two and three thousand persons in Damascus can be written down as nothing less than a wholesale military murder, and those in Paris who are demanding Sarraill's recall declare that the massacre was the result of a downright case of funk on the part of the French stationed at the city. They feared attack, and ran amuck in their fear. No other explanation satisfies; for it is inconceivable that the blundering horde of death sent out through Damascus could have been engaged upon a cold-blooded mission of extermination, scientifically arranged.
If, as is all too freely prophesied, the Damascus massacre is the beginning for a new revolt across North Africa and throughout the Mohammedan world; the white races may have to face this rebellion in the worst possible morale, with the eschewon of their cause dishonored by an irresponsible and terrible deed, with the charges of their enemies in a measure substantiated, with their subjects' desire for liberation freshly justified. Savagery from a Christian nation, holding a mandate of just administration from the League of Nations, is the most reprehensible of all.
The Damascus incident comes at a particularly unfortunate period. It comes when European missionary endeavor, the chief influence building respect for European civilization in Mohammedan regions, has undergone a decline due to retrenchment forced on ten nations due to the war, and due to the necessary ordering home of all German colonial missionaries. It comes also at a time when Europe is in trouble in the Riff and Tripoli. The immediate difficulty may blow over, but the massacre will continue to bother western consciences and fan the suppressed spirit of revolt for many years to come.

DEEP HEAT FOR RHEUMATISM
Heat conveyed directly to the body from hot water bottle, poultice, stupa or hot moist compress, fomentations, hot water baths, hot mud or clay applications, electric pads and other means is universally employed for the relief of ache, pain, soreness or stiffness. Heat conveyed to the body indirectly through convection, as from radiator or stove, the various forms of body baking, hot air baths, electric light cabinets, is second only to direct heat for the relief of these conditions. These are all superficial in effect; that is, only the skin is heated, and there is no measurable increase in the temperature of the deeper tissues, say the tissues of a lame joint or a torn ligament. There is a method of heating the deeper tissues, which has been introduced in recent years. It is called diathermy. Diathermy means heating through or deeply. The heat is generated in the tissues by a high frequency, high voltage alternating current of relatively low amperage, which is caused to pass through the tissue from one pole or electrode to the other. The intervening tissue completes the circuit. The resistance the tissue offers to the current produces the heat. This is not properly electric treatment, for in the use of diathermy apparatus the physician elicits no reaction such as electric treatments induce, no nerve response, no muscular contraction, no chemical reaction. The only sensation the patient experiences is warmth. This mode of treatment is giving much satisfaction in all sorts of joint injuries and disease. In the treatment of the common fractures which are accompanied with so much stiffness and prolonged disability, the early institution of massage and passive movements is made much more effective by a preliminary application of diathermy. It prevents and relieves much swelling, pain and spasm. It restores something like the normal lymph and blood circulation in the injured tissues, or, in other words, prevents some of the undesirable effects of disuse of the injured member.
Diathermy is a valuable agency in the treatment of sprains and dislocations, subcutaneous and subdeltoid bursitis, chronic fibrous ankylosis or partial rigidity of joints, and in innumerable cases of local infection involving joints. It is considered almost a specific for gonorrheal arthritis by some physicians who have had wide experience with the treatment. This seems reasonable enough, for physicians had long believed that the gonococcus could be easily destroyed by moderate heat if some means of heating the infected tissue without endangering the vitality of the tissue could be devised.
Even infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis) cases are being treated by this method, and some physicians report that application of the diathermy to the portion of spine where the spinal cord is probably involved, and also to the leg or arm that is paralyzed seems to do some good, shown by improvement in sensations and motor power in the affected limb.
There is no such disease as "rheumatism." This term is merely one of convenience—it is especially convenient for quacks, mail order fakery, incompetent doctors and patients who don't care particularly what ails "em as long as they can find new experiments to try.
But diathermy appears to hold great promise for rheumatism. I am unable to inform anybody where such treatment is to be had. Ask your doctor.

Don't begrudge them the chins anyway. Some folks need two or three.

"One element in the successful planning of these fall university and college homecoming affairs is to be sure to set the date for the event on a day when the home team has opposition over which it is sure to triumph."—Detroit Daily News.

In other words, let the calf be well fattened for the benefit of the prodigal sons.

Another essential of homecoming events seems to have been the storing of large quantities of wet stuff. Some prefer to use it when the home team loses, and others simply can't let it alone when the team wins.

Here is good advice for homecoming games: Never, no matter how dry you are, allow spirits to dampen your spirits.

"We don't know whether we are correctly informed, but we are told one business man refused to answer his phone all last week because he was afraid it was his wife asking him to come home and tend to the furnace."—Milwaukee Herald-News.

That shows what a dangerous thing a telephone really can be.

This year every team of winning caliber has either a Red Grange or a troop of Four Horsemen. Next year the teams will probably have a Nick Kutsch, or a steam roller, or a tank.

The Question Box
When in doubt—ask Haskin. He offers himself as a target for the questions of our readers. He agrees to furnish facts for all who ask. This is a large contract—one that has never been filled before. It would be possible only in Washington, and only to one who has spent a lifetime in locating sources of information. Haskin does not know all the things that people ask him, but he knows people who do know. Try him. State your questions briefly, write plainly, and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Q. What is the latest A. A. U. rule for penalizing a sprinter for a false start? L. F. S.
A. He is set back one yard for each false start.

Q. What kind of a whip does Douglas Fairbanks use in Don Q? W. H. P.
A. It is known as a bull whip.

Q. How much cream must there be in ice cream? J. O. B.
A. Ice cream is a frozen product made from cream and sugar, with or without natural flavoring, and contains no less than 14 per cent of milk fat. This is the standard purity for ice cream as prescribed by the Department of Agriculture.

Q. How much does helium cost for dirigibles? A. B. F.
A. The production cost of helium is approximately $2.08 cents per cubic foot. The transportation cost to the air station is higher and ranges from 7 cents to 10 cents per cubic foot.

Q. What is the record time for a passage from Honolulu to San Francisco? J. A. T.
A. The fastest time ever made by a vessel between San Francisco and Honolulu was accomplished on May 11th, 1923, by the scout cruiser "Omaha" which reached San Francisco from Honolulu in 75 hours 40 minutes.

Q. Why isn't the Scotch deer-hound more popular in this country? I understand that one of this breed is a good pet and companion. K. A. W.
A. Very few Scottish deer hounds have been introduced into the United States and little has been done to establish the breed. This is easy to understand inasmuch as our laws do not permit the hunting of antlered game with dogs, and our carnivorous big game demand dogs of a heavier and more aggressive nature than these fleet chasers of the highland stag. The deer hound is said to make a wonderful companion.

Q. Were John Randolph and Daniel Webster in the Senate at the same time? C. A.
A. John Randolph and Daniel Webster did not serve in the Senate at the same time. John Randolph was Senator from 1825 to 1827. He last served in the 19th Congress, 2nd Session. Webster was Senator from 1827 to 1841. He took his seat in the 20th Congress, 1st Session.

Q. What will prevent a butterless cake's sticking to the pan it is baked in? J. C. D.
A. The pan should be moistened with cold water and not dried. If the pan is greased the cake will stick.

Q. What animal eats bees? J. E.
A. The Biological Survey says that skunks have the reputation of eating yellow jackets and bumble bees. It is generally supposed that the juicy larvae of these are most appreciated but the adults are also eaten and probably the honey stored by bumble bees. The skunk approaches the yellow jackets' nest cautiously and scents on the outside of it until its occupants rush from the entrance to repel the intruder. The skunk shows much skill in capturing the insects and in dislodging them from his long hair where many cling. He pays little attention to their stings.

Adventures In The Library
By ARNOLD MULDER

A SIXTEENTH CENTURY MENCKEN
It is not straining comparisons too much to compare Benvenuto Cellini, author of one of the greatest autobiographies ever written, with I. L. Mencken of the team of Mencken and Nathan. Cellini was a sculptor by profession and only incidentally a writer, while Mencken is a writer by profession and probably can't draw enough to make a creditable schoolboy picture of a teacher. But there is much in common in the outlooks of the two men.
Cellini's autobiography is one of the very few great autobiographies. I suppose the really great autobiographies written in the whole history of the world could be counted on the fingers of one hand, and Cellini's is easily one of them. When Charles W. Eliot was asked to select the world's greatest books for the famous "five foot book shelf" he included Cellini's biography as one of them, intimating thereby that a person is not truly educated who has not read Cellini.
Cellini's autobiography comes about as near to Mark Twain's ideal of an autobiography as it is perhaps possible to get. Mark Twain told his brother Orion that if he could tell the whole story of his life, telling literally everything, glossing nothing over but setting down the good and the bad impartially, he could achieve a great book. Later Mark Twain decided it could be done. But Cellini has come at least within hailing distance of doing it and he thereby achieved an immortal book.
He lived in the troubled days of the sixteenth century, part of the time in Italy, his native country, and part of the time in France. He committed homicide a number of times, being a very hot-blooded person, but he does not gloss over such acts of violence. He describes them as impartially as he would have done had he been narrating someone else's life.

He commits numerous other deplorable acts which he seems to delight in describing minutely. In the respect he is like Mencken who also never seems happier than when he is describing some quality in his nature that everybody else looks on with abhorrence. If Mencken over-writes his autobiography (and in reality everything he writes is in one way another autobiography) it is likely to have more in common with Cellini's book in method and in spirit than with any other autobiography.
Both have violent antipathies. Cellini hated music. His father wanted him to become a musician but he wanted to be a sculptor and although he learned to play well on the lute he hated music with his whole soul and took every opportunity to call bad names. Mencken hates poetry as has more than once gone to ridiculous lengths in abusing it. Both men are most exhausted the vocabulary of heaping abuse on the things they disliked.
ART WAS FIRST
Both took every opportunity to play the claims of art far above the claim of life. Mencken once said that the children born in Patterson, Calif., the Spanish-American war were to be compared in value to a work of art, only he said it more generously; Cellini told the story of the death of his natural son and in a next breath tells of a little gold statue he was making at the time. The impression left is unmistakable: he considered the statue of greater importance than the son he loved.
The comparison between the two men probably comes out best in the leanings. Cellini was one of the greatest boasters that ever lived, and Mencken is not far behind him. But some how one can forgive Cellini because he was not a vain boaster. He was a great artist who knew his own value and was not afraid to say how high he valued himself. Some people say Mencken's boasting but in his case too there is something to be said on the basis.
But however one may regard the comparison, Cellini's autobiography is one of the world's greatest books and hence very much worth reading.

P. T. Hears Address On Far East

Interesting sidelights on the customs of the Japanese and Chinese people were given by Miss Mary G. Kelly of Oshkosh, in a talk on A Trip to the Orient at the monthly meeting of First Ward Parent-Teachers association in the school building Tuesday evening. A musical program and an illustrated address by Frank Koch also were part of the entertainment.

Miss Kelly is an instructor in Oshkosh normal and recently traveled through the far east. Japan, she said, likes our automobiles, banking and telephone systems and the systematic way in which the people here do things. They are rather aloof from Americans, however, because of the attitude of this country toward them.

Travel in Japan was described by the speaker, who warned anybody who might be touring to select a blue railroad coach as these were first and second class. The red, or third class, gives one a rough ride and the rail employees never tell a traveler which to take.

DISCARD KIMONO

Japanese are discarding the kimono and adopting American styles of dress, said Miss Kelly, but the women don't carry the clothing as well and present as nice an appearance as our own people do.

Japan is a nation of limited space and one can walk easily from the seacoast to the unproductive mountains there. It is no wonder, therefore, said the instructor, that they seek more territory.

Miss Kelly then directed her remarks toward Chinese activities. She said she was surprised to find, on her trip across from Japan to China, that the yellow sea actually is yellow in color. The general impression is that Shanghai is on the coast but six or seven hours of travel upriver are required to reach it. Chinese put an eye on each side of their boats when they build them, believing this will make the craft safe its way at night. Some are born on boats and live there all their lives and have small plots of ground at the end of the ship for house gardens.

CHINESE LACK SANITATION

Chinese cities lack sanitation, as there is no sewerage system anywhere except facilities which were used in ancient times.

CREDIT NO GOOD

A virtual C. O. D. policy is used by countries doing business in China, the speaker found out. A representative of the Japanese Loan-advance works had been in the country since 1912 trying to collect for a large amount of rolling stock the government bought for its railroads. The personnel of the government changes often and one group refuses to bind itself for obligations of its predecessors. Nowadays concerns require one-third of the money with an order, one-third when it is unloaded at the docks and the remaining two-thirds when delivered to the purchaser.

Sanitary is a problem in China, the speaker said. An armed guard stands at each end of coaches in railway trains to prevent robberies and hold-ups. Miss Kelly's inquiries about mah jong brought out the statement that the Chinese really play the game just as it is used in America, with the same kind of equipment.

The school assembly room was filled to capacity for the program, with L. L. Johns, president, acting as chairman. Several members of Beta Sigma Phi fraternity entertained with songs in piano and piano accompaniment and Prof. John Ross, of the Lawrence Conservatory of Music, played piano solos.

Frank Cook, manager of 181st theatre, also was a speaker. He told a story of the picture, "The Man from Home," using stereopticon slides to illustrate his talk. Refreshments and an informal social hour closed the program.

SCOUT TRAINING 15 Extra-Curricular Clubs

COURSE DATES ARE DEC. 5-6

Function At High School

New York Master Scout Chiefs Will Be Here to Instruct Leaders

Dates of Dec. 5 and 6 have been set for the opening sessions of the boy scout leaders' training course which is being arranged by P. O. Keicher, executive of Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America. Confirmation has reached him from Ray O. Weiland, New York, director of the department of education of the Boy Scouts of America. Mr. Weiland and J. P. Freeman, assistant national director, are planning to be here to conduct the work. It is Mr. Keicher's plan to engage two cottages side by side at Lake Winnebago within convenient access of the city for the training. All scoutmasters, commissioners, members of district committees, fathers of scouts and all workers with boys or interested in boys' work will be invited to enroll. The class will go to the cottages Saturday afternoon and spend the night and all day Sunday there, allowing time Sunday for church services.

Daylight hours will be devoted to instruction in camp cooking, methods of making a camp, tracking, training, fire building and the things boys are required to do. The men will go through the actual experiences of a scout, not only to master the things they must teach others but also to gain a better appreciation of what boy scout life amounts to.

Evening hours at the cottages will be occupied with scout demonstrations, talks on organizations of troops and other educational work. Four other evening sessions will be arranged later at which further leadership training will be conducted.

Either Mr. Weiland or Mr. Freeman, or both, will come to Appleton to take the men back to boyhood days for a while. It took Mr. Keicher months to complete his plans because he wanted the best men in the boy scout movement to serve here and persisted until they announced dates when they could come.

No new boy scout troops will be encouraged until leaders are assured who know the work, are interested in it and will stay with the organization after they start.

FEW PERMITS FOR NEW BUILDINGS

Total Cost of Construction Authorized Last Week Is Only $9,500

Building permits authorizing the construction of three residences, seven garages and additions and repairs to other buildings at an estimated cost of $9,503 were issued last week by George Peotter, building inspector.

All proposed building projects were small, the largest estimated cost for any single one being $4,500 for a residence and garage. Permits were also granted for the construction of a residence and shed at an estimated cost of $1,700, and for a residence and garage at an estimated cost of $1,800. All other permits were for the construction of garages or for minor repairs and additions to buildings.

RETSON & JIMOS 109 W. College Ave. Phone 299

Appleton High School students have ample opportunity to develop their talents along special lines by participating in more than 15 extra-curricular activities, a survey of the institution indicates.

The list of activities includes almost every conceivable form of endeavor, ranging from the physical to the mental side, and should offer something of interest to practically every student enrolled in the school.

Surprising to relate, however, only a small percentage of the student population participate in activities outside the regular school program, a survey conducted by Miss Marie McCloskey shows.

MEANS EXTRA WORK No single explanation for such an apparent lack of interest is given by the teachers. Some hold that each activity has room for only a small number of students, and that those who do win places in any endeavor are usually the strongest students and the ones who gradually merge into other activities.

The majority of students just do not care to take the responsibility of extra work on their shoulders, it is said.

The list of organizations and activities which are functioning at the school include "A" club; Girls Athletic club; Radio club; Tallman, the school paper; Clarion—the school yearbook; Hi Y, Sophomore Triangle student council; band; boys' glee club; Girls' Glee club; orchestra; track team; football team and basketball team.

NINE IN COUNCIL The student council, which gives its members experience in leadership by directing class activities, is composed of nine members. The council is made up of four students from the senior class, three from the junior class and two from the sophomores. William Lee is president of the council and Josephine Buchanan is secretary and treasurer.

The Hi Y club, which takes for its members only students in the junior and senior classes who belong to the Y. M. C. A., had a membership of 26 last year. Its membership at the present time is smaller, having depleted by the graduation of several of its members. The present officers of the club are: Edward Hoesman, president; Harold Eads, vice-president; Frank Harriman, secretary; Glen Opperman, treasurer; John Catlin, sergeant at arms.

CLUB FOR LETTERMEN The "A" club is open for membership to all students who make their letter in some form of athletic activity which is recognized as a major sport by the school. There are: Edward Steenis, president; Robert Asman, secretary-treasurer.

Athletics for girls are provided for in the Girls Athletic association of which Lydia Becker is president. Helen Ziegler, vice-president, Margaret Murphy, treasurer, and Helen Gilman, secretary. The association now has approximately 60 members.

The radio club of 20 members was organized since the opening of school this fall. It is the newest activity to be offered at the school, and considerable interest has been evidenced in it. Theodore Lange is president and Wilmer Schlafer secretary and treasurer.

The Tallman, school paper, and the Clarion, school annual, furnish a splendid field for the development of future journalists. There are on an average of about 17 pupils engaged in work on the Tallman, and about 21 on the Clarion. Carl Scholter is editor-in-chief of the Tallman, which is published once every week. Jack Carr is managing editor; Mark Carr, news director; Kathleen Coen, city editor; Francis Rooney, sports editor; Martha Jentz editor of the Clarion. The editor of the Clarion is Daryl Myse, while Milton Litzke is business manager.

Another club is the Sophomore Triangle. This organization, similar to the Hi-Y club, takes for its members those students interested in the Y. M. C. A., but as the name indicates, its membership is recruited from the sophomore class.

Any ability toward musical endeavor can be developed either along vocal or instrumental lines by participation in the band, orchestra and glee clubs. Membership to these organizations is as follows: band, 50, orchestra, 24, Boys Glee club 38, girls glee club 80. Twelve per cent of the boys and 19 per cent of the girls belong to glee clubs.

Under the direction of Warren Wright debating has been made a strong and popular activity at the school. About 20 students usually try out for the debating team each year. The track team, football team and basketball team furnish physical and mental exercise for the male students. About 20 boys participate in track, 20 in football and 15 in basketball.

Y. M. C. A. WILL KEEP BOYS BUSY FOR 2 DAYS

With public schools of Appleton closed Thursday and Friday, due to the Wisconsin State Teachers convention at Milwaukee on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, special programs will be put on in the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. to keep the youths occupied. Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 6 o'clock a game tournament for the boys will be held. A department champion will be chosen in each game.

On Friday the boys will participate in an all-day hike, leaving the "Y" in the morning and carrying their lunches with them. The department will be open both days. John T. Pugh, boys' work secretary, will be in charge of vacation activities.

KAUKAUNA DOCTOR IN CHARGE OF CLINIC

A free chest clinic will be conducted at Appleton Women's club building from 1:30 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Miss Florence Whipple, city nurse, announced Tuesday. Dr. C. D. Boyd of Kaukauna will be the examining physician. Any one is welcome to attend the clinic.

31 Million Railroad Crossings Without An Accident

Statistics completed recently show that during 1924 the vehicles operated by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) crossed railroad tracks 31 million times without an accident. This is an average of 85,000 safe crossings per day.

This remarkable safety record is a deserved tribute to sustained effort, on the part of the Management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), to impress all employees with the need and desirability of careful driving.

The Company pointed out the dangers of careless driving and furnished placards reading—

"This car stops at all railroad crossings."

Every driver was asked to pledge himself to co-operate and to evidence his good intentions by displaying the placard on the rear of his machine.

Thus the result was achieved as by common consent, through an appeal from the Management to the sound judgment of loyal men.

It is this remarkable spirit within the organization that has made the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) such a constructive force for good in the Middle West.

The 29,000 employees are proud of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana)—they glory in its achievements—they are jealous of its standing.

They go at the daily task with energy, intelligence, loyalty, courtesy and enthusiasm.

That Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service shall be superior is their creed.

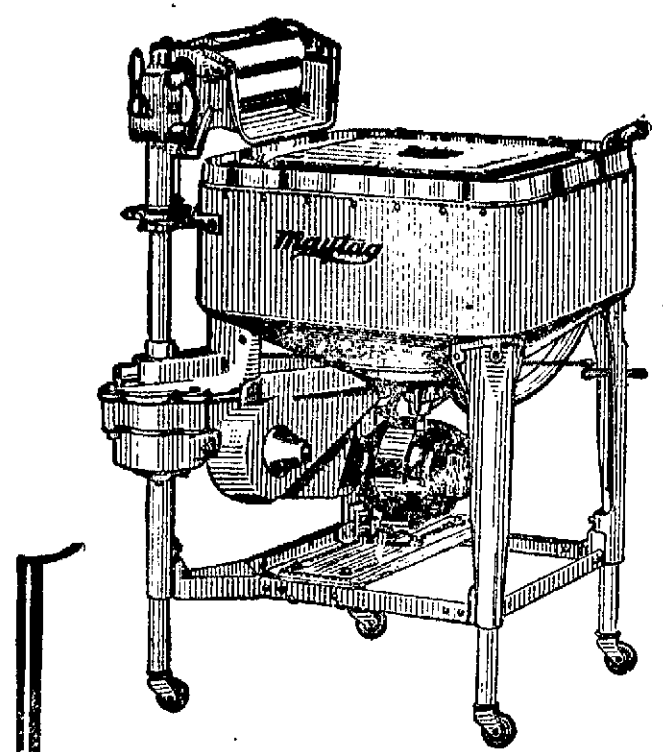

The success of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is due, in no small part, to the ability of the management to mold an organization which is so conscious of its responsibility and so willing to discharge its obligation that it responds to a suggestion as effectively as to an order.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color, 15c and 30c.

After Others Fail Don't Give Up!

HE who hesitates is lost an old saying, but true, and it has kept many people invalids all their lives. If they had taken their case in its infancy and treated it as if they meant business, they would have averted that operation, its after effects, and the large fee of the surgeon. Not only in health, but the man who has always stayed in the hole and dared not venture out has never made a fortune. The step must be taken if you accomplish good health or wealth.

If you have Rheumatism, Lumbago, Piles, Gout, Appendicitis, Gallstones, Stomach, Bowel, Skin Troubles, as Eczema, Pimples, Black Heads and Psoriasis, Kidney, Bladder, burning and frequent, Liver, Indigestion, Flatulence, Sour Eruptions, Heart Burn, Constipation, Catarrhal conditions of the bowels. STAGE And SCREEN

AGOODSTORY WELL PRODUCED

Bearing the title of Thomas Dixon's story, "The Foolish Virgin," the picture form has come to the New Bijou Theater. It is a faithful performance featuring Elaine Hammerstein with Robert Fraser and a strong supporting cast. It makes a very gripping tale with big sets and interiors and a most thrilling forest fire.

A straightforward store of the struggles and trials that many people have to undergo before life opens out into the broad highway for them, is produced in admirable form. The photography is in the hands of Robert Brodin and the direction under George Hill. The final result is a picture that is well worth the seeing and one that will be long remembered. The story is well known to many who read the book when it was published. It is one that will, in the picture form, please many more, besides those who will go to see an enjoyable novel which they have read.

EUGENE O'BRIEN AS HERO IN HARROWING PICTURE HAS SHARPENING EXPERIENCE

If you had wealth, social position, were politically successful, and were told by your physician that you had but a few weeks to live, what would you say or do?

Could you always be in a jocular mood, always have a smile on your face, always seem apparently happy? This is the condition which confronts Eugene O'Brien, cast in the title role of "Simon the Jester," a Frances Marion Production, which will be shown at the Fischers Appleton theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Simon, through his friendship for a young man (his secretary) gets him in more trouble, more startling and thrilling situations than the average man encounters in a lifetime.

His generosity and kindly attitude create all sorts of havoc, until finally he is forced to battle for his life as well as that of the women he loves. Never did a screen story contain more human touches, more humor, more pathos, more sentiment and more thrills than does "Simon the Jester."

George Melford directed the production and with O'Brien in the title role, Lillian Rich, the heroine, Edmund Burns, the misunderstood lover, Henry Walthall, the villain, William Platt, the clown, little is to be desired in modern motion picture entertainment.

Aside from these screen personages there is a complete circus with its clowns and performing animals, as well as a side show filled with human freaks, featured in the production.

Also Harry Langdon comedy, Aesop's Fables, News and organ song-alogue.

STREET CROWD AIDS MARY PICKFORD FILM

"Little Annie Rooney" made a tour of Los Angeles streets recently, accompanied by her "gang." She was on "location" and needed traffic congestion for the final fade-out of her new United Artists Corporation picture now showing at the Bijou. She found it for when "The World's Sweetheart" clad in a bewitching, organdy frock and wearing a floppy, big hat was recognized atop of the big truck, there was all the traffic congestion that even William Beaudine, her director could desire.

Indeed, Mary had a parade all her own. Once she was discovered almost the entire populace fell into line, knowing that "truck-shots" have to end somewhere and that if they were patient, they were apt to see Mary in action at close range and not hedged about by difficult gatemens and tire-some studio restrictions.

Accompanied by her admirers, after a tour of the business section, the company invaded the wholesale district. There at Second and Alameda Streets, to the vast amusement of the crowds Miss Pickford, perched high on Joe Kelly's truck, toppled time and again to the floor of the truck backward with her tiny feet waving helplessly in the air toward the camera. She enjoyed the fun herself hugely and repeated the stunt until the cameraman and director expressed themselves as satisfied in spite of the impromptu audience's evident desire for an encore.

It is composed of high school students, and only those are eligible.

Miss Alice Fellenz was elected president, Miss Ruth Beumler, vice president, and Miss Jean Dassel, secretary. Miss Gretchen Richardson was appointed as chairman of the program committee, Orville Zerrner, constitution committee, and Thomas Polley, membership committee.

FIRST DEBATE TRYOUT IS SET FOR NOV. 19

New London—The date of Friday, Nov. 19, has been set for the tryouts for the high school debate teams. The local school has gotten a late start this year, but expects to make up for it by putting in extra time. The public speaking, or debate class, will begin an active study of the question next Monday. All who are interested in trying out for the teams have been asked to see B. J. Lahr, debate coach, this week, so that they make arrangements for entering the debate class next week.

The interscholastic debates will be carried on in a different form this year. No school will be eliminated after losing its first debate, as was done in previous years, due to a new calling passed this year, but each school will be able to participate in several debates before being eliminated on a percentage basis.

CAGE DRILL WILL START NOV. 10

Interclass Tournament Will Precede Regular Schedule This Fall

New London—The local high school expects to start basketball practice on Tuesday, Nov. 10. The formation of the 1926 Red and White cage team will begin on that date, providing arrangements for securing of the practice hall can be made satisfactorily. Only one game is now on the regular schedule, on the early part of December.

This year's prospects for a good basketball aggregation are bright. Hill, son, who was injured in a football game last Saturday, will be able to play again in about a month, and so will be able to mix in most of the cage contests. Several other veterans are also left over from previous years, and this, along with a great deal of new material, is expected to develop into a winner.

The high school will resume a new form of basketball competition this year, that of interclass tournaments. This form of the game was prevalent in the school some years back but died out. The interclass tournaments will be staged before any scheduled games are played and it is expected that both boys and girls will participate.

EXPERT STORES 1,200 BUSHELS OF SEED CORN

Knauf and Tesch Co., Chilton, Dry Product on Trees in Huge Kilns

Special to Post-Crescent.
Chilton—The Knauf and Tesch Co. has completed the storing of about 1,200 bushels of Wisconsin pedigreed seed corn. This corn is mounted on corn trees which are wire frames, the branches of which are forced through the pithy or central portion of the cob. These corn trees are suspended from the ceiling, in parallel planes a few inches apart, thus providing for a proper circulation of air during the process of kiln drying. This corn was all raised in Calumet-Co on the east shore of Lake Winnebago where the growing season is two weeks longer than in other portions of the county because of the influence of the warm westerly winds blowing over the lake.

The collection, mounting and curing of this seed corn is largely the work of Roland Tesch, who made a special study of seeds at the University of Wisconsin last year. Any one interested in seed corn and in this method of mounting and curing seed will find it worth while to examine this attractive seed room.

Because of the unusually heavy corn crop and the recent freezing weather, the farm work in Calumet-Co is only partially done. About half of the sugar beet crop is still unharvested and scores of farmers have not started fall plowing.

MORE PETITIONS OUT FOR GARBAGE DISPOSAL PLAN

C. OF C. FINDS SENTIMENT IS GROWING HERE

Citizens Desiring Municipal System Asked to Sign Papers at Drug Store

With 400 signatures already obtained on petitions, Appleton Chamber of Commerce has put plans in effect to ascertain sentiment here for a garbage disposal system operated municipally. This information then will be turned over to the special committee of the common council, of which Flory Earl is chairman, as a help in determining how much of a demand there is here for such a system.

Petitions will be placed in all drug stores and the public will be asked to sign them if a garbage disposal collection and disposal plan is desired. A committee consisting of Dr. L. Bolton as chairman, Ed H. Harwood and Louis Bononi has in charge. They are members of the community welfare committee of the chamber of commerce and were appointed to make a study of any phases of the question which will be of help to the council.

DEMAND IS EVIDENT
It is believed that there is a widespread demand for municipal handling of the garbage problem in Appleton. Petitions now in the hands of the chamber of commerce are among those circulated by a group of women last summer. Quite a number have not been turned in and the chamber asks that these be submitted as far as possible. While the number of names thus far on record is not large the signatures are an indication of how the sentiment runs. Only a few sections of the city were visited.

The committee thinks the same results would be obtained wherever petitions might be submitted. The time is rather short for a canvass if anything is to be done when the next city budget is prepared, and all people who would like to see the council act now are asked to go to any drug store and register their names.

THE PETITIONS

Petitions read thus: "To the honorable mayor and common council of the city of Appleton: Recognizing the need for better sanitation and health in our city and to present the popular demand in a definite way, we, the undersigned property owners, or voters of the city of Appleton, respectfully request that an up-to-date system of garbage collection and disposal be instituted which will be available to the entire population of the city, and that an ordinance be passed prohibiting any one from leaving uncovered garbage, the decomposition of which will be a nuisance and general menace to public health."

EXPLOSION OF LANTERN FIRES FARM BUILDINGS

Merrill—A gasoline lantern in the barn at the Julius Woller home exploded, causing the destruction of two barns, the 15-room dwelling, most of the farm machinery, 40 tons of hay and 700 bushels of grain.

Martin Woller, who was pumping up a tire at the time of the explosion, jumped into the automobile in an attempt to save it from the flames. The top caught fire and Woller barely escaped, kicking out the closed curtains on the opposite side of the car. Cattle, horses and furniture were removed from the buildings. Heat from the burning barns caused the house to catch fire, even though saturated with water.

In the same barn in which the fire started, the father, Julius Woller, suffered a fatal fall a year ago.

FARM WORKER KILLED BY FRIGHTENED HORSE

Mantoloking—William Kaufman, 56, employed on the farm of Nic Scheuer, near Mishicot, was killed by a team of frightened horses when about to start plowing with a tractor. The tractor had refused to start and the team was hitched to it. When the tractor was finally started the horses, which Kaufman was holding by the bridles, lunged and trampled him to death.

HOPE TO FINISH STREET PAVING BY END OF WEEK

S. Oneida-st Bridge Resurfacing Is Finished and Street Is Open to Traffic

Unless more delays are caused by inclement weather, the 1925 paving program will be completed this week. It was stated by R. M. Connelly, city engineer, Wednesday morning.

Only the S. Lawe and S. Drew-st hills remain to be paved, and this work is not expected to require more than two days. Rain held up the work Wednesday.

Resurfacing of the S. Oneida-st bridge across the "flats" was completed Tuesday, and the bridge opened to traffic Tuesday evening. The old, worn out blocks have been torn up and replaced by a coating of "black top." The new, smooth surface not only gives motorists more comfort in crossing the bridge, but lessens immensely the strain on the structure.

Members of the common council met at a special meeting at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon and examined the completed pavements on N. Lawe, N. Meade and N. Bateman-sts and on E. John-sts. They will make their recommendations at the regular council meeting Wednesday evening.

MASS BANQUET IS PLANNED FOR STORE WORKERS

Plans for Unique January Event Set in Motion—Campsite Task Started

Something unique in fostering greater friendliness and interest in the retail circles of Appleton will be attempted in January when a banquet will be held at which all employees of stores will be guests or their employers. Three committees were appointed at a meeting of the retail trades division of the chamber of commerce Tuesday morning to begin the plans. Arrangements for a campsite next year were set in motion and Christmas plans discussed.

Every merchant in Appleton will be invited to participate in the get-together dinner and invite all his employees. It is believed that more than 500 will be present. A good speaker will be obtained and a program arranged for such an occasion.

Committees handling the project are: Decorations, Chris E. Mullen, chairman, H. L. Post, Harvey Schlitz, H. L. Dawson and Owen Kuether; program, John H. Neller, chairman, John R. Diderich, J. R. Whitman, Julius Kopplin and George Nixon; place and menu, Louis Bonini, chairman, Arthur Schell, Walter Hughes, H. A. Gloudehans, F. H. Zahrt and A. B. Fischer.

Christmas trees will not be used for street decoration this year, the merchants decided after quite a discussion. There were differences of opinion as to store closing during Christmas week also and a questionnaire was sent to all merchants Wednesday to ascertain their wishes. They are asked to vote either to keep open until 9 o'clock Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of that week or close at 5 o'clock those days.

Merchants feel the need for a campsite, according to expressions made by those present. A committee was appointed to arrange for one. Claude Snider is chairman, and Ambrose Wilton and E. A. Schmalz were appointed

CHURCHES COOPERATE IN DAD AND SON WEEK

Two delegates from every church in the city have been invited to attend a meeting of the boys' work committee of the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening to make plans for Father and Son week from Nov. 5 to 12. The boys committee held its initial meeting Tuesday evening to work on the project. The group which is in charge of the week in Appleton outlined a tentative program.

Nearly every local church will cooperate in the work, and special services will be held in each. An attempt will be made to get every father and son in Appleton to take some part in the week's program. The week is observed all over the country.

NO VACATION FOR KIDS IN 3 PUBLIC SCHOOLS

While boy reigns supreme among many of the school children of Appleton Thursday and Friday, because school is closed during the Wisconsin State Teachers convention held at Milwaukee, pupils of three local grade schools will spend the days in the usual manner. Regular sessions will be held at the First ward, Lincoln, and Third ward schools, according to an announcement from the office of the city superintendent of schools.

DEBATE COACH DRILLING MEN FOR FIRST CONTEST

With the date of the first debate in which Appleton high school will take part drawing near, Coach Warren Wright is drilling his speakers hard every day. Meetings of various combinations of students are being held daily after school and Coach Wright is trying to get two effective combinations together to represent the local school against the teams of the Fox River Valley Forensic conference. Much outside reading on the debate question is taking place. More than a dozen candidates are trying for places on the local team.

Selection of a suitable site will be one of the tasks and the committee also will confer with city officials as to their wishes.

"PEP" RUNS HIGH AS STUDENTS GET READY FOR GAME

Athletic Leaders Urge High School People to Support Team Next Saturday

Preparations for the Appleton-Kaukauna high school homecoming football game here on Saturday were given a big impetus Wednesday morning at the high school during the assembly period by the longest pep session of the year. Clem Kuchum was in charge of the meeting, aided by Andy Montgomery, school cheerleader. Miss Dorothy Husband of the faculty announced that a large silver cup will be presented to the class having the largest attendance at the game and also that the attendance counts toward the award of the school spirit cup. She urged the students to buy tickets immediately. Montgomery led in yells and the student body sang the Alma Mater. Among the speakers were Mr. Kuchum, A. C. Denny, athletic director of Lawrence college and a former Orange coach; Mark Catlin, Lawrence football coach; Coach John McAliffe and a representative of each class of the school. Mr. Denny stressed the will to win as a vital necessity and called attention to the splendid records made in the past. He said there was no reason why this showing should not be continued this year. McAliffe gave a rousing talk on the Kaukauna game. Louis Stevens, Eunice Segal and Earl Miller, represented the senior, junior and sophomore classes respectively and pledged the support of their classes.

It was announced that meetings of the committees in charge of the homecoming celebration will be held at the school Thursday and Friday to complete plans. A large parade, led by the school band, is planned for Friday evening. Each class and practically every club in the school will have floats in the parade. Members of each class will march in a body behind their float. A silver cup will be awarded for the best float. Judges will be Principal H. H. Heblie, George Dame and William Frank.

Both hearings will be held at the city hall in this city.

MENASHA ASKS
COUNTY TO HELP BUILD BRIDGE

Petition for Aid for Tayco-st
Project to Be Presented to County Board

Menasha—A lengthy resolution petitioning the county board for aid in constructing the new Tayco-st bridge was read by Mayor N. G. Rummel at the monthly meeting of the common council Tuesday evening. It will be presented at the annual session of the board which opens at Oshkosh Tuesday, Nov. 10.

The resolution contains considerable information relative to the new structure which the engineers estimate will cost $218,000. After calling attention to the fact that the bridge will be located on highway 15 and will be used by the county as well as the city of Menasha the resolution says the total length of the structure will be 165 feet with 100 feet in the clear.

40 FEET WIDE

The bridge will be 40 feet wide and an eight foot sidewalk on each side and will be so constructed that interurban cars can operate over it. At the present price of material the engineers, McMahon & Clark, estimate that the foundation and piers will cost $82,000; the four stone towers $8,000; and the super-structure, $128,000. The foundation will penetrate the rock 14 feet.

In order to give the aldermen some idea of the amount of concrete required, Mayor Rummel said that considerably more than was used in the pavement of Elm and Tayco-sts will be needed, according to the estimate of the engineers.

The application of William F. Jensen to operate a soft drink establishment in the Krautkramer stand was referred to the committee of the whole. Resolutions relating to the Walburn plat, Burkhardt subdivision and Denhardt subdivision were adopted. This action was made necessary by the fact that the original resolutions were lost at Oshkosh before they were recorded.

Upon recommendation of the water and light committee the council disposed of a one-half interest in 27 electric light poles to Wisconsin Telephone company for a consideration of $80.65.

Two claims of the OutDoor Relief society of Milwaukee—on one of John Heinzel for $18.00, and the other of Edward Brosinski for $16.92 were referred to the poor committee and the city attorney.

The matter of purchasing a tractor and grader for use by the street department was referred to the committee of the whole. Alderman Fahrner called attention to the need of the outfit but upon the suggestion of Mayor Rummel, the purchase was delayed for the present.

Mayor Rummel read a statement showing the amount of municipal bonds outstanding which totaled $214,580.

No, Bobbed Hair Is Not "Passe" Yet

BETSY SCHUYLER

New York—Is bobbed hair going out of style in New York? Shall I let my hair grow?

Two out-of-towners who were in New York last week shopping and seeing the sights put these questions to me the same day.

My answer is that despite the rumors to the effect that Paris and New York are shelling the bob, you see more and shorter hair cuts than ever before since the craze began. Why even Ethel Barrymore came home from Europe this Fall leaving her locks behind her.

"I felt so old-fashioned with long hair," she is reported to have said.

The debutants of New York are bobbed, almost to a flapper. Most of the young matrons are bobbed and quite a number of society women who have passed 50 know the sensation of owning short hair.

The chorus girls of Broadway are practically universal in the support of the bob. The leading women of the stage, however, are divided on the subject. Many of them are bobbed, but many retain their long hair, and eat it as a mark of distinction.

Probably the most unusual, and gorgeously blonde hair on Broadway belongs to Ann Harding, in "Stolen Fruit."

She apparently secures her locks at some central point on the back of the head, then brings the ends over her forehead in a swirl effect quite too comely for words. No one would ever want to see her bobbed.

Lana Fontaine is another actress who features her hair. Her's being dark and "raven-hued" she pulls it back severely from her forehead, uncovers every portion of her ears and wears a knot at the nape of her neck.

She would lose much of her patrician quality, I believe, if she were to cut her hair.

Eva Lee Gallienne has cut her hair in an extreme boyish bob though she is seen with a very severe dark cut. Still Southern wears her dark hair flung across her forehead but at close range the back of the head and her ears.

EAT PIE FIRST INSTEAD OF AT END OF MEAL

R. H. Shaw, nutrition expert for the American Liking Association has been testing out the food value of pie by feeding it to rats. After six months of experimenting he has come to the conclusion that pie is a real food.

It is a mistake, according to Shaw, to eat pie as dessert at the end of the meal. When pie is eaten first it is the dinner already has its main food as the body requires and does not get the nutriment which abounds in pie. Eat it at the beginning of a meal, he says.

One group of rats was fed custard pie, another rice potatoes, cabbage spinach and bread. The rats which were given the pie gained weight more rapidly than the others.

Others kinds of pie were tried. Custard, pumpkin, squash and sweet potato pies were found to be the most nutritious while apple pie was at the foot of the list in protein content.

But apple pie is a good source of heat and energy and has slightly more value pound for pound than wheat bread.

TIME VALUABLE DON'T WASTE IT BY BEING LATE

BY CYNTHIA GREY

"Late as usual, my dear—terribly sorry!"

You can always depend upon Madeline to greet you with these words when she meets you for an appointment.

And you can always depend upon it she will be anywhere from half an hour to two hours late before she greets you.

Madeline has never had a job of any sort. It is unfortunate that she has not, just so that she might earn some idea of the importance of time.

About the time she had been dismissed four or five times because she couldn't get down on time in the morning, the clock would become a more important factor in her life.

And if she had just one hour to luncheon and had waited on the corner for some dear friend more than half that time, she would come to realize that one o'clock is a definite hour.

Of course there are many instances where one is unavoidably late. But there are many women and men too who never make an effort to be on time.

One of the most inconsiderate things we do is to waste the time of other people.

One of the most annoying things that can happen to us is to have our valuable time wasted by someone else.

We wouldn't squander a friend's money. We wouldn't dissipate his most valued possessions. Then why not be equally fair about his time, the most priceless thing he has, and the one thing we can never replace after we have wasted it.

We are in the market for CABBAGE. W. F. Bose, Appleton, R. 2, Phone 9711312.

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Halves of grape fruit minced lamb on rice graham gems, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Cream of celery soup, croutons, lettuce and cottage cheese sandwiches, apple fritters, syrup, milk, tea.

Dinner—Slice of ham baked in milk, baked potatoes, buttered spinach, hearts of celery, baked pears with cream, whole wheat bread, milk, tea.

When a cereal is not included in the breakfast menu muffins of some sort are served in place of toast. Be sure the muffins are "crusty." A breakfast made up entirely of soft foods is not ideal diet.

The coarse stalks of the celery are used for the luncheon soup leaving the hearts and tender stalks for the dinner "green."

APPLE FRITTERS

Three tart apples, 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 1/2 cup milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 egg, 1 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon.

Pare apples, cut in quarters and remove cores. Slice thin, sprinkling sugar through slices. Beat yolk of egg until thick. Beat in milk and add flour, salt, baking powder and cinnamon mixed and sifted. Stir in prepared apples. Fold in white of egg beaten until stiff and dry. Drop from the spoon into deep hot fat. Fry a golden brown and drain on brown paper. Serve with maple or brown sugar syrup. The fat should be hot enough to brown an inch cube of bread from the soft part of the loaf in 60 seconds.

WASH WOOLENS IN WARM WATER AND SOAP SUDS

As soon as the evenings become chilly, sweaters and knitted scarfs come into their own.

It is well to be prepared for this moment by having all of these wraps clean and fresh, ready to use as soon as needed.

Select a warm sunshiny day. Collect all of the garments and dust them well. Prepare a tubful of warm soap suds. The flakes are more convenient for this purpose than bar soap, because they dissolve so readily.

To make the suds, simply pour a handful of pure flakes in a quantity of hot water. After a few minutes, add enough cold water to make lukewarm rich suds, whisking it up with the hands.

Put in all of the garments of one color at a time. Squeeze and press the suds through the material. If the water becomes very dirty, repeat the washing with fresh suds.

To rinse thoroughly, pour off the suds and add clear lukewarm water. Pour off this first rinse water and add a fresh, clean supply. Squeeze each garment as dry as possible without wringing.

To dry knitted things without stretching or shrinking them is really not a very difficult task. Simply spread a clean cloth in an airy shady spot, out of doors, if possible. Lay the garments out flat on the cloth pulling and pushing them into their original shape. It is a wise precaution to take measurements of the garment before washing so that it can be dried to the same size and shape.

Household Hints

RIGHT THIEF

Thrift does not mean merely buying something that is cheap. Real thrift lies in buying the right things at the lowest price that it can possibly be bought for and then preparing the food so that it is appetizing.

SAVE IN FRYING

In frying it is cheaper to use a deep fat enough to cover the article to be cooked by it than to use only a surface fat, renewing it as it disappears.

CLEAN BRASS FAUCETS

If your brass faucets have become tarnished or stained clean them with a flannel rag dipped in vinegar or lemon juice and then rub thoroughly with rotten stone and oil.

THE FRUIT CAKE

A cake which should be much stiffer than one you eat. Use some B. and M. in place of sugar. Use milk and molasses do not thin the mixture as much as sweet milk or water and sugar will.

SERVE CHILDREN COCOA

In the winter months when the children want something hot to drink let them eat of a bowl piece of milk cake. Put a piece of the usual size of milk cake in coffee and tea cups. A very nourishing food for the growing boy or girl.

Card Party, Loyal Order of Moose will hold an open card party in Moose Temple, Wed., Nov. 4 at 8 P. M. Lunch Free.

RICH LACE AND BROCADES BACK IN STYLE AS ERA OF SIMPLICITY FACES END OF SUPREMACY

TWO OF THE NEWEST FALL FASHIONS ON DISPLAY IN NEW YORK

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS

New York—The sweet, simple girlish era is facing the end of its supremacy. Rich and regal raiment is asserting itself.

"I don't mean to say that women must abandon simple styles and the garconne type of frock," said Henri Bendel, fashion authority, "for you know as well as I that no one can tell what women will do, or make them do anything they don't want to do, or make them accept styles they don't like."

"But I do point out most emphatically that a woman need not wear simple gowns this season if her taste craves elaboration. If she wants to be exotic and bizarre this season she may do so with fashions full of line and color."

"For the younger women I approve as I have always of simple, youthful gowns. Youth needs no gaudy raiment or seductive jewels to enhance it. But it is my opinion that the nation may advantageously heighten her attractiveness by more sophisticated dressing."

"There is a lure to rich silks and brocades to jewels and plumage of the richest sort that women have known and utilized to their advantage for centuries. After a period of Puritan simplicity in dress, we inevitably return to the more splendid and rich to the more colorful materials, and a more oriental appreciation of brilliance and glitter."

"But I repeat, clothes are an individual problem. Simplicity that is founded on good line and good workmanship is never out of style and is always distinctive in any age."

In looking over the new evening gowns that had just come in from the custom house, I was impressed with the richness and elaboration that manifests itself this season—the use of gold and silver cloth covered with jewels and colorful embroidery, the use of metal laces and rich furs. I was quite fascinated by the way one layer of chiffon is arranged upon another to give an opalescent effect and the novel ways scarfs and draperies are arranged, and the charming ways in which the uneven hemline is achieved.

"Important features to be noticed on this season's evening frocks are," he concluded, "the flared hemline, the use of lace and combinations of lace, both in thread and gold and silver, the use of bows and ribbons, the gorgeous linings that reveal themselves the embroidery and beading and the ornate scarfs that are a part of the costume, and the shaded effects in chiffon and velvet."

NOW BUSINESS WOMEN HAVE SPECIAL ROOMS

The business woman of today has become a well recognized unit in the life of the nation, as the movement that has appeared in one or two big cities to erect apartment houses for business and professional women clearly indicates. These blocks will have attractive suites in which lachol women who earn their own way in everyday affairs can be as comfortable and as much at home as those who have a real home atmosphere.

The plans for one typical apartment house of this character picture an abode of taste and convenience. It will have four stories, with electric elevators and on the roof half the space will be a roof garden and the other half will be screened off for use as a sheltered sleeping porch.

In the basement will be an immense living room with a large Dutch fireplace. Nearby will be six separate kitchens each with an electric range. An electric refrigerator will provide compartments where

Besides the 130 rooms for the lodgers, there will be suites for a resident physician and facilities for electric baths, electric hair dresses and beauty parlor. The number of electrical conveniences draws attention to the utility of this element here as elsewhere.

Two notable electrical factors will be utilized to the fullest extent—the electric incandescent lamp and the small type electric motor—although the business women may not ponder that both of these are contributions to their welfare from "mere men"—Thomas A. Edison, of Menlo Park fame, Dr. W. D. Coolidge of the General Electric research laboratories, and Prof. Elithu Thompson son of the old Thompson-Houston Electric Co.

FASHION HINTS

TOUCHES OF COLOR

A tailored dress of gray kasha cloth is interestingly trimmed with raspberry colored velvet.

PLUMED HAT RETURNS

The plummed hat is gradually making its way back into the fashionable do rack.

Besides the 130 rooms for the lodgers, there will be suites for a resident physician and facilities for electric baths, electric hair dresses and beauty parlor. The number of electrical conveniences draws attention to the utility of this element here as elsewhere.

WOMAN'S WARDROBE

The plume usually falls from a small brim, however, and drips over the shoulder.

SATIN AND WOOL

The satin coat for winter is often lined with wool, particularly with light colored kasha cloth. Inevitably it is fur-trimmed.

LACE AND JET

Despite the reign of color there are many distinguished looking all black gowns for day and evening as well. Jet and black lace are a very dignified combination.

VELVET AND JERSEY

Velvet and jersey are combined very delightfully this year in sports clothes. Usually the velvet is darker in tone than the jersey.

One Hour of Time Banishes Two Years from Appearance

Creams indicated by the condition of the complexion will be recommended for home use, and proper directions for make-up cheerfully given.

When Jack and Commissioner Laidlaw left, Benson turned to me with such a worried face that I burst out laughing.

"What would it be, Madame," he said, "if anything should happen to you. Suppose I was overpowered."

"Don't worry, Benson! Nothing will happen to me up here and I won't leave until Mr. Laidlaw and Mr. Prescott return."

"I'll have my dinner early, Benson, so that I may have it with little Jack, and finish the book I am reading while waiting."

I heard Benson give his orders from the hall at the foot of the staircase, and looking out I could not help smiling. Ruth, that dear old soul, was seated on the stairs and across his knee was one of Jack's shotgunners that he uses in duck shooting.

I heard him tell Mary when she came to bring up my dinner that he had double locked and bolted both front and back doors and if they got to "Miss Leslie" or the children it would be over his dead body. This, of course, frightened Mary to death, and she protested that she could not carry the tray upstairs her knees trembled so.

They had quite a long confab, and finally the cook was summoned to help Mary, for Benson would not allow himself to be taken from his vantage place in the hallway where he could see both front and back doorways.

Both the cook and Mary were so terror-stricken that they did not want to return to the kitchen. Consequently they seated themselves beside Benson in the hallway on the staircase. It really was funny, Ruth, for even though, all the while, I was thinking of poor Zoe and Syd and wondering if anything was happening to them, I could not help smiling a little at my protectors. There was Benson. In his irreproachable English butler uniform, the cook who weighs about 250 pounds, spreading all over the stairway almost obliterating slender Mary in her short skirt and perky cap and apron who was clinging to her.

It seemed to me that I had never heard the doorbell ring so often or the telephone jingle so much as during the next few hours.

At last my private phone rang in my bedroom, and I hastened to it to be much relieved by hearing Jack's voice.

"Are you all right? I was worried, dear."

"Perfectly. When are you coming up?"

"We have just finished our business and will be with you very soon." "I'll have to tell that to Benson or you will probably be shot. He is sitting in the hall with one of your duck guns over his knee."

Jack laughed.

"Blessed old watchdog," he said, "You tell him that we will ring the bell with one long peal, a short one and then another long one."

"Have you found out anything, Jack?"

"Tell you all about it when I come home in about a half an hour." So here I am, Ruth, finishing this letter. I do wish that Zoe and Syd were here. I am so worried about them. As for the pearls, I don't much care.

Lovingly, LESLIE. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.) TOMORROW—Cablegram from Mrs. Alice Graves Hamilton to Leslie Prescott.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Queer Butter Dish

At last Juggle Jump and the Twins reached the Royal Palace in Tumblo Town and asked to see the king.

"He is just sitting down to lunch," said the footman with a hop, skip and jump. "But just come into the dining room and he can talk to you while he is eating."

So six servants led the way, all hopping first on one foot and then the other.

"What can I do for you, good people?" asked the king lying down his fork which slid clear across the wobbly table and fell to the floor with a clatter.

CATLIN WORKS UNDER LIGHTS FOR CARROLL GAME

BLUES WORK EXTRA HARD FOR CARROLL

Passing and Huddle System Stressed as Catlin Drives for 1925 State Title

Working far into the early evening under the glare of two large floodlights manipulated from the pressstand, Coach Mark Catlin's Lawrence college gridders went through a nice workout Tuesday afternoon in preparation for the state title battle with Carroll college at Waukesha Saturday. Neither team has lost a game in the Little Five race, while Ripon and Northwestern are definitely out of the going.

Students desiring to see the battle for the 1925 state collegiate grid title Saturday when the Lawrence and Carroll squads clash at Waukesha can make reservations on the "Blue and White Special" by calling W. B. Basing at the Northwestern depot. The special will be put on at least 200 Lawrence students and townpeople decide to go. This number probably can be signed with ease due to a state title battle and old rivalry. Round trip tickets on the special will cost only about the price of a one-way ticket to Milwaukee $3.46.

BACKS WORK HARD

Seven types of plays were run off from the same formation with Bries and Nason carrying the ball for nice gains against the husky frosh. Boettcher worked well on interference and was on the receiving end of several passes. Bries also picked passes out of the air in nice style. Catlin worked on passing and worked hard to get the ball off well. Present indications point toward the Blues opening a passing attack Saturday that should take Carroll off its feet when it is at its heights. The Blue also worked on the huddle system consulting on each play before going into action and Catlin let it be known that the new style probably will be used against Carroll but probably not in the Beloit battle.

STARK ON FIELD

Don Stark, veteran tackle, was out for the practice but, unfortunately, he was hurt and may not be in the Carroll game. However, with the new line functioning well in the last two games, Catlin probably will not take a chance on weakening the member Stark will be a valuable addition in the Beloit game, as the stateliners are gaining a reputation this year for their great line.

But Nason, probably the best drop-kicker in the Little Five this year, had a few of his specialties before darkness fell. Carl got off the first kick of the year against Hamilton. He stood directly on the sideline 48 yards from the enemy goal and calmly directed the ball while his mates yelled for him to kick. Finally after what seemed an age, with opponents shooting in toward him, he shot the leather directly over the center in a perfect kick. Carroll and Beloit seem to think that Bert is dangerous anywhere within the 45-yard line but the Blue halfback can send their estimate to 50 yards and still make the boots. In a close battle with Carroll or Beloit, his glided toe will be the handiest thing on the field for the Lawrence crew.

UNDECIDED WHO SHALL PICK "CAMP'S" TEAM

Chicago (AP)—Who shall select this year's All-American football team to replace that of the late Walter Camp, is a question already being agitated here.

It is admitted that there are a dozen well-qualified critics of the gridiron game who will supply lists but none of these will have behind them the tradition and more or less recognized authority of the Camp selections.

The Chicago Herald and Examiner Wednesday makes two suggestions editorially. One is that the All-American now out of college shall vote in a new group each year. The newspaper calls the plan interesting, but cumbersome.

The other suggestion advances Amos Alonzo Stagg for 33 years coach at the University of Chicago and a product of eastern football as the man of the future for football service in the country. The newspaper thinks his findings would carry weight like those of Camp's.

MILLS SAYS 1925 SQUAD AMONG BEST

Beloit—Coach Tommy Mills shifted his Beloit college squad about to show a much stronger line and a faster backfield against Ripon this Saturday and Lawrence on Appleton the week following. Center Anderson and Quarterback O'Connor were hunched, while Guard Darling and Halfback Purdy, midget flash who started the Midwest conference game by his showing here against Coe last week, took the quarterback berth. Tom Grady was inserted at one back post and Mills sent his rejuvenated team through a long practice on forward passes by which he expects to bury both state foes. For the first time this year Mills was smiling. "That's the one of the best teams I ever had," he admitted.

Poultry Fair, Greenville, Sunday.

OLD BEATRICE HIGH BACK STAR OF GOLD

Beloit—Relying largely upon the sensational running, kicking and passing attack of sophomore Everett Purdy, 135 pound newcomer to the Beloit college squad, Coach Tommy Mills expects to score another Midwest conference win here Saturday over Ripon. It will be the final game on the home field, but Beloit meets a tough test the week later when it has to upset Lawrence at Appleton in order to win the conference crown. Beloit beat Knox a week ago and on Saturday it was largely due to the sparkling efforts of half back Purdy that the Millsmen upset Coe here. There were no Beloit injuries suffered in the game, and Beloit will present its strongest front against Ripon.

Purdy will be remembered by local fans as the sensation of backfield man of Beatrice high who played against Appleton in 1921 and 1922, upsetting them by a big score at the Nebraska city, the first year, and making an all-star team work hard to win in a field of mud here the next time. His presence in the Beloit lineup should attract a large crowd of fans to the game.

CARROLL WORKS HARD FOR BLUES

Best Backfield That Ever Represented Armstrongs Team to Battle Lawrence

Waukesha—Carroll college alumni, who return here for the annual homecoming game with Lawrence on Saturday will be treated to the pure attraction of the season in the state college conference.

Both Carroll and Lawrence possess strong eleven's. Neither has lost a game to a state opponent, while Carroll has won every game on its schedule and run up 244 points in five games. With Beloit not in the running for state honors, the outcome of Saturday's battle here will settle definitely the state champion. Beloit forfeited its chance at the title when it withdrew from the conference.

Today Coach Norris Armstrong of Carroll had two fresh teams working with two varsity eleven's. The yearlings, employing Lawrence plays and formations, made large gains. Carroll followers who witnessed the Northwestern game last week have not so readily accepted the theory that Armstrong had his men playing "under wraps." The Lutherans put up a stiff fight and kept Carroll from running up the large point total they were expected to score.

Armstrong will have a fairly strong squad available on Saturday although two regulars are definitely lost for that game at least. Hertz, tackle, who broke his leg in the Lake Forest game, and Schulze, end, who was lost early in the season, will be in the lineups.

The Pioneers will exhibit probably the best backfield that ever represented Carroll. Lund, Capt. Hoffner, Larson, Lange, Slater, Mann, Hill and Blahnik are all backs ready to play. Of this number, Lund, Hoffner, Lange and Hill will most likely start.

With Reed and Catton both larger than Hertz, battling for the tackle position left vacant when the last named was injured, Armstrong is confident the important line job will be well taken care of. A crowd of 5,000 is expected to fill the stands.

IOWA MUST WHIP NEW LITTLE MEN

Wisconsin Next Block in Path of Nick Kutsch and Co. in Fight for Big Ten Title

Special to Post-Crescent
Iowa City, Ia.—The University of Iowa launched its home stretch of the conference championship this week. Wisconsin at Iowa City this Saturday, and Minnesota at Minnesota the following week will determine whether Iowa is to be the big surprise of the season and champions of the Big Ten conference.

Nick Kutsch was out in a suit and he will be ready to rear and plunge through the Wisconsin line. The rear that Crawford has been forced to take has made him impatient and he is anxious to get back into the game. A number of reserves who have worked faithfully all season were given a taste of college football last Saturday and they rendered good accounts of themselves.

Cubel, Fry, O'Neal, D. Smith, and Hogan took turns in taking the ball over the Indiana line. These backs will undoubtedly be the nucleus of next year's backfield.

In the line, Mann, Sowers, Achenfelder, Volmer, Keel, Lambert, and Beloit showed flashes of good stuff. Excitement is beginning to gather as the Wisconsin game approaches as Coach George Little's Cardinals will make a mighty stand to put Iowa out of the running.

FAMOUS RED GRANGE SETS EAST AFIRE

"Red" Grange, all-American back on the University of Illinois football team, shows the Easterners just how great he really is. These pictures show Grange, the famous ice man football player, running through the entire Pennsylvania team at Franklin Field Philadelphia for a touchdown in the first few minutes of play. Grange, starting out with the ball lower Grange tackled by the Penn players after he had crossed the goal line. Grange, holding the ball while his team mate, Britton, kicks goal after touchdown.

BADGER HOPES RAISED BY TIE

Littlemen Work for Undeatable Iowans With New Spirit Caused by Big Last Quarter

Madison (AP)—Heartened by the tie that resulted from their last period rally against Minnesota, the Wisconsin football squad this week is building up a defense for the Iowa game Saturday.

One of the most difficult games of the season is expected by the Badgers when they go against the strong line and powerful backfield of the Hawkeyes. Wisconsin, therefore, is working hard to develop a defense capable of stopping Kutsch and Fry, the Iowa stars, as well as Graham, Schirmer and others on the Hawkeyes eleven.

Wisconsin emerged from the Minnesota game in good condition and all of the men reported for practice. Left Burris at end on the basis of his work against Minnesota, is expected to play a leading part in the Badger defense. For the attempt to score against Iowa Coach Little will have the Harmon brothers, Leo and Doyle, who led in the Badgers' attack at Minneapolis.

Couch Little has a hard but hopeful task in preparing for the Iowa contest. The aerial game of the Badgers is on a high plane and the Cardinal eleven showed itself capable of smart playing when once it gets under way.

FURNITURES WHIP WIENER BOWLERS

Taking two games out of three the Rietschneider Furniture Co. quintet stepped off with a 3-1 victory in a match against the Hoppie Women's Tuesday night at the Arcade alleys. The winners picked up a 50 pin lead in the opener but went back into the rear file when the losers took the next battle by 62 pins and a 12 point lead. However, the list game fell to the Furnituremen by a clean 75 pins.

Of the losers shot high game of the evening with a 246, the only 200 score for his crew. Four of the winners shot for the big honors (Groth and Tim getting 202, Sauer, a 203 and James a 207).

MARANVILLE SLATED FOR ANOTHER BERTH

"Rabbit" Maranville is almost certain to be traded by the Chicago Cubs before the opening of next season. Maranville, having had a whirl as manager and failed, won't be of any great help to the new Cub pilot McCarthy. It is rumored that the "Rabbit" will go to Cincinnati.

WHITE SOX SHORTSTOP UNDERGOES OPERATION

Chicago (AP)—Like Davis, White Sox shortstop, has undergone a serious operation on his knee, which he broke in the first play of the opening game of the city series. The condition Tuesday night was reported favorable and he expects to leave for California for a rest in about ten days.

BY BILLY EVANS
What's in a name? Not much when it comes to the great game of football as played in the American colleges.

Not so many years ago it was the exception to see the name of any extrusion other than Simon pure Yankee, German, Irish or Englishman in the lineups of our college eleven's.

The offspring of foreign born parents, however, are beginning to play a prominent part in "Rah Rah" athletics east and west. It is now the unusual not to see some name that is easier to sneeze than pronounce as a football regular.

Major Kavanaugh, war hero and famous coach of the Boston College eleven, recently remarked to me that the "Pole" was the ideal athlete.

"Often we find that certain college heroes become inflated with their children success and the publicity they get in the newspapers but never the 'Pole,'" says the major.

"The 'Pole' has courage; he is easily disciplined, keeps in the best of condition, never grumbles, but, best of all, flatters, hero worship, means nothing to him. He will be unspooled until about the seventh generation."

Quite a few of the football candidates at Boston College are of Polish extraction. The major, who is a close personal friend of mine, tells me that he has never seen one who lacked "nuts."

However, if you take the time to look over the lineups of the leading college eleven's, you will find that football is no longer a typically

BOWLERS SCORE 1,135 TO TAKE HIGH HONORS

Weissgerber and Felt Are High in First Elk Whirligig Tournament; Win $9 Prize

Knocking over the maples for a prize of 1,135, A. Weissgerber and F. Felt walked off with high money Saturday in the first whirligig doubles, tourney of the Elk allies for the 1925 bowling season. Only six pairs entered the initial meet, but more are expected as the tourneys go on. Another whirligig doubles meet will be held next Saturday. The meets are open to any bowler in Appleton.

Weissgerber and Felt shared a prize of $9 for their high score and Sinto Balliet and J. F. Johnson, who topped second money with a 1,039 mark received $3 for their work. Weissgerber got the two high series scores for the evening. He rolled a 574 as Felt's partner and came back with a 564 as a partner of D. Rerlinger in another trial. However, Rerlinger netted only 507 for a 1,071. Weissgerber rolled high games of 242 and 212, getting the former while bowling with Felt. Felt's one contribution was a 200 score with a 219. His series mark was 561 which helped the pair to the top honors.

needed to help Appleton down its ancient rival Kaukauna after a season of defeats it disappeared. Real school spirit could be shown by the return of the dummies by the takers who by the way are known at the school or by other students going out and finding it.

Kaukauna is going after Appleton's scalp here Saturday in what should be a whiz of a game. The battle of Georges—no Mon't mean Carpenter—also will entice throngs. Built along the same lines from the ground but with the Kaukauna man a trifle busier, George Uebach, local center, and George Boyd, Kaw star, two of the best in the northern part of Wisconsin, will fight for the big honors. Voecks of Appleton, our choice for an all-valley conference berth at tackle, also is expected to have a hard day if reports from the Electric City mean anything. Voecks is a hardfought freeman by the name of Miller playing his first year of football and Kaw fans say he will step all over the local husky. He must be good or he wouldn't be holding down a regular line berth on Bill Smith's strong crew his first year out.

Appleton fans who saw the Carroll-Northwestern game, say the Blues should whip the Waukesha crew in great style. They failed to show against the Lutherans, getting three of four markers on opponents' fumbles. The Blues are said to be in better condition. Reports show that the Carrollmen are pulling the same stuff as last year. They ran up big margins on a few "soft" victims, piling up a huge score for the season and shooting the public full of their "wonder" team, getting their college all keyed up for great deeds against the Blues. Here, their stars were not out on a journey but in had shape and Lawrence UNEXPECTEDLY beat them. Blue fans might almost expect the same thing this year by the teams they have picked to play. All men who have seen them play this year said that they have no backfield in spite of all the wide spread publicity, who can approach Pete Bries or any lineman that can stand up against Counsel.

ALABAMA LOOKS LIKE BEST BET IN SOUTH

Too bad Alabama does not meet one of the leading eastern eleven's this year. In its defeat of Georgia Tech, Alabama loomed up like the best bet in the south. Most of the southern critics favor Tech to win.

"HAIR-GROOM"

Keeps Hair Combed, Glossy Well-Groomed all Day

There's an after thought Earl is a hard battler, willing to fight and give all he has while in the ring. He showed better thinking on the last and then ever before. With a little real coaching the boy would go good in any ring.

Another thing that's wrong with Appleton high school football team. Too many of the men are already thinking about basketball. They should eat and live football while the game is in season and then go for the cage game. It doesn't show much grit or feeling for the school's record to think about basketball and let football go hung just because of a few tough breaks or losses. For instance East high is going to trim any team they play this year by a good margin. One local tackle particularly, though at present on the injured list, seems to be thinking about the cage game. He was a member of the second Orange team under Ray Barlow last year.

Somebody stole the high school tackling dummy from the old Lawrence field Saturday night as a Halloween joke—or in disgust? Any way that was carrying a joke too far as just when the sawdust man is

LEAGUE UMPS PRAISE WAITE, HOYT'S SPEED

New York—No one on the ball field is in a better position to judge a pitcher's real worth than the umpire. Their estimate of a pitcher's stuff is usually mighty close to being correct.

American League umpires are a unit in the belief that Pitcher Waite Hoyt of the New York Yankees has the best fast ball in the junior league and that doesn't except the Walter Johnson of today.

But Hoyt is like the vaudeville performer who can dance but insists on singing. He prefers his slow curve to the fast one, particularly in the pinch, as a result, his pitching suffers. Royal batters, knowing Hoyt's fondness for the curve in the crisis, always look for it when up in the old pinch.

LOCAL PINSTERS WIN IN DOUBLES

Grassl-Currie Combine Cops Intercity Match from Kraus and Bayer of Menasha

An Appleton doubles pair R. Currie and R. Grassl, piled up the pins for a 1,731 total for five games Sunday afternoon on the Eagle alleys to take the edge in the first intercity doubles of the season from C. Kraus and A. Kraus, crack Menasha pair. The Paul City duo hit 1,678 for the five games, just 53 below the local boys. Currie was high man of the out with 972 for the five games, which included games of 202, 202, 200. Both Menasha men edged in between the Appleton pair holding Grassl to fourth. The Paul City boys garnered two out of the five games. The final match of five games to decide the intercity winner in a ten game series will be rolled at Menasha Sunday afternoon. An Appleton team has challenged the winner to a double series.

The Early Bird Gets The Job!

Everybody subscribes to the belief that "The early bird gets the worm."

Early rising and early advertising are the two best methods of getting almost anything that's wanted—from a worm to a job. The worm hunter rises early. The job hunter advertises early. That's the main difference.

New positions and new opportunities are opening up these days. Businesses are expanding. Firms are taking on new men.

And the man who attracts the favorable attention of employers in these first weeks of the new season is the one who is going to land the job he wants!

You'll find that most employers are keeping their eyes on the "Situations Wanted" column in the A-B-C Classified Section. Take the hint. Tell all about yourself and your qualifications in an inexpensive little ad here—and connect!

WALKER IS ELECTED MAYOR OF NEW YORK

try's largest city will be a tammany product who arose much as the governor himself, from the sidewalks of New York.
A semi-pro ballet player, a song writer in New York's famous Tin Pan alley and a stage manager earlier in his career, Walker has been in the legislature for 16 years. He has been an active supporter in behalf of welfare legislation. He was sponsor of laws permitting boxing, Sunday movies and Sunday baseball. He is a lawyer.
His defeat of Waterman by a plurality of nearly 400,000 came on the thirteenth anniversary of his wedding. Mrs. Waterman is glad that her husband lost. "If he had been elected it might have affected his health and it might have meant his life," she said. Governor Smith's comment on the election was: "This great Democratic victory will be watched through the world."

GIVEN BACKING

Complete returns show James J. Walker, Democrat, was elected mayor by a plurality of 401,551 over Frank D. Waterman, Republican.
Walker will have a solid Democratic board of estimate composed of General Charles W. Berry, comptroller; Joseph V. McKee, president of the board of aldermen, and the following borough presidents, Julius Miller, Manhattan; Joseph A. Guider, Brooklyn; Maurice E. Connolly, Queens; Henry Bruckner, Bronx, and John A. Lynch, Richmond. All were elected by substantial pluralities.
The vote was surprisingly large in view of the decrease in registration and the apathy that characterized the campaign. District Attorney Jacob H. Benton's majority over former governor Charles S. Whitman, Republican was 115,000.
A Republican assembly was elected but the Democrats gained four seats.

SMITH WINS

Detroit, Mich.—(AP)—The open effort of the Ku Klux Klan to put a candidate in the office of mayor of Detroit failed Tuesday when voters rejected John W. Smith by a majority of 23,757 over Charles Bowles, who ran with Klan support. The vote for Mayor, complete, was: Smith 110,833; Bowles 111,051.
The Klan was more successful with its five candidates for councilmen, four of the number being elected, while two out of three candidates who ran on a slate opposed to the Klan were defeated.
An official tabulation of the total number of votes cast was 255,761 of which 90,819 were women's votes. Voting was marked by no disturbances. Six hundred patrolmen were on duty at the 583 voting booths.
The mayoralty vote climaxed a spirited campaign in which both candidates spoke several times daily. The issue was never sharply defined. Bowles seeking to fix vice conditions as the chief issue, while Mayor Smith held that the question of Klan rule was at stake.

THREE KILLED

Louisville, Ky.—The Courier Journal Wednesday says that "snipers" shooting and alleged use of gas pistols attended the return of the Republicans to power in Louisville Tuesday with the election of A. A. Will as mayor over Joseph O'Neal, Democratic candidate, by a majority of 2,231, while dispatches from eastern Kentucky told of three dead and several wounded in election day shootings.
John J. Davis, chairman of the Democratic campaign committee declared in a formal statement that the election of Will would be contested on the grounds of fraud. The vote from 664 of the 70 precincts was Will 55,337; O'Neal 53,106.

Examination of witnesses had not been completed by noon. Only the plaintiff and defendant appeared on the witness stand Wednesday morning.

COUNCIL TO PASS ON SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION

Thompson at the last council meeting providing for the uniting of the four school districts in Appleton into one school district will be taken by the common council at a regular meeting at 7:30 Wednesday evening. Action on the resolution was deferred at the last meeting.

VAN DRAKE TELLS POLICE HE FAKED STORY OF HOLDUP

Rose Hill Man Signs Statement in Which He Confesses He Told Lie
Martin Van Dyke of Rose Hill who told the Kaukauna police he had been held up robbed of $20 12:30 Tuesday morning while walking home on highway 15 made a written statement Tuesday evening saying that he had lied to the police when he told them he was held up at the point of a gun, but still claims that he was robbed of $20. Van Drake's statement follows: "To whom it may concern: This is to certify that the report I made to the Kaukauna police department on being held up with a gun at Rose Hill on the night of Nov. 2, 1925 was a lie."
Chief of Police R. H. McCarthy and Patrolman James McFadden found the four people whom Van Drake said had robbed him. They were questioned separately and each said that Van Drake was drunk when they encountered him on the road, that they had asked him where they could get water for their car, and that after they had found out from Van Drake about the water they left him alone. They also said that Van Drake was continually repeating "I'm drunk."

DEATHS

ANTON GRAEF
Anton Graef, 87, pioneer resident of Outagamie-co, died Tuesday morning after an illness of several weeks. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the late home in Hortonville where Mr. Graef lived for many years.

85 Per Cent of Public School Pupils Deposit Money in School Banking System

Eighty-five per cent of the students of Appleton public schools, both grade and high school, banked their "spare pennies" during the week closing Oct. 27, according to the weekly report from the First National bank, where the funds of the schools are on deposit. Columbus school has a 100 per cent record, every one of its 274 students being a depositor. The school deposited $25.61 for the week. Several other schools had a record of nearly 100 per cent with only two to five students not depositing. Of 2,567 students of the local schools, 2,178 deposited sums totaling $426.92.

Thirty-three withdrawals for the week took $172.00 from the bank and $1.45 was credited to various students during the week as interest. A balance of $19,157.45 is on deposit. The system here was installed by Thrift Inc. Reports are mailed each week to the school principals and the office of the city superintendent of schools.

ONE DRINK IS ENOUGH TO RATE FINE OF $5

Declaring that he was "exactly intoxicated" but just sick from his last drink, Theodore Whitman, 129 S. Douglas-st., was fined $5 and costs when arraigned in municipal court Tuesday morning on a charge of being drunk. Whitman was arrested a little after 6 o'clock Monday evening near his home by Chief of Police George T. Palm and Officer Carl Radtke.

Whitman told Judge Theodore Berg that he had taken just one drink at a saloon that afternoon, which "was hardly enough to make a man drunk." But this one drink, added to a hangover from the night before, was more than his constitution could stand, with the result that the liquor went to his head, he told the court. The court held that Whitman was telling the truth, and that in this case one drink had been enough to cause him to become intoxicated. He was meted out the usual fine.

Attend Conference in Milwaukee

Thursday and Friday will be red letter days for pupils of Appleton public schools for these are the first two days of the annual Wisconsin State Teachers convention which is held at Milwaukee, and all of the schools will be closed. The convention meets from Thursday to Saturday afternoon and a large number of local mentors will be in attendance. Several local teachers will take an active part in some section of the three-days program.

While most of the students will spend their extra vacation in any manner which pleases them, a large group of senior high school boys and girls will put in much time on work for the Kaukauna-Appleton high school homecoming game here Saturday. Friday evening a pep session and torchlight parade will open the affair and preparations for the "big doings" will occupy most of the week.

Among the Appleton teachers who will go to the state meeting are the Misses Dorothy Husband, May E. Webster, Marion Young, Ada Hahn, Adela Klumb, Margaret Ritchie, Esther Harrison, Elsie Mueller, Ruth Melke, Dorothy Vestal, Clarence Spence, Margaret Abraham, Blanche McCarthy, Minnie Blatter, Edna Sawyer, Laura Livermore, Dolma Saltsburg, Ruth McKennon, Louise Buchholz, Margaret Sherman, Dora Keller, and Messrs. Wright, Robert Grant and C. W. Cross.

Miss McCarthy is chairman of the state history section and Miss Hahn heads the German sectional meeting which will be held Nov. 7. Miss Ruth Saecker and Miss Ethel Carter will attend the annual convention of the National Science and Mathematics League, the country's largest organization of science and mathematics mentors, in Chicago. Miss Eveline Broderick, Taikovan sponsor, will attend the annual convention of the Central Intercollegiate Press Association at Madison as a substitute for the teachers convention.

Lemons Tighten Wrinkled Skin

Squeeze the juice of two lemons in a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents, shake well and you have the very mildest anti-wrinkle lotion to tighten relaxed skin, erase fine lines and eradicate crows-feet.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion into the skin at night. By morning most of the tell-tale wrinkles, tired lines and crows-feet are smoothed out giving a more youthful contour to cheeks, chin, throat. It leaves the skin velvety soft, clear and fresh.

Beauty experts use this astringent lotion for enlarged pores, also to bleach and whiten sallow, tanned skin. Mix this harmless lotion yourself since it acts best immediately after prepared.
